Table of Contents

Manfred Pfister
Introduction: A History of English Laughter?

Susanne Kries
Laughter and Social Stability in Anglo-Saxon and Old Norse Literature

Andrew James Johnston
The Exegetics of Laughter: Religious Parody in Chaucer's Miller's Tale

Indira Ghose
Licence to Laugh: Festive Laughter in Twelfth Night

Susanne Rupp
Milton's Laughing God

Werner von Koppenfels
'Nothing is ridiculous but what is deformed': Laughter as a Test of Truth in Enlightenment Satire

Kay Himberg
'Against the Spleen': Sterne and the Tradition of Remedial Laughter

Ute Berns
The Romantic Crisis of Expression: Laughter in Maturin's Melmoth the Wanderer and Beyond

Merle Tönnies
Laughter in Nineteenth-Century British Theatre: From Genial Blending to Harsh Distinctions

Tobias Döring
Freud about Laughter – Laughter about Freud

Jeremy Lane
James Joyce's Book of Laughter and Forgetting

Renate Brosch
The Funny Side of James: Gendered Humour in and against Henry James

Manfred Pfister
Beckett, Barker, and Other Grim Laughers

Index