

Intellectual Property Rights and the Life Science Industries A Twentieth Century History

GRAHAM DUTFIELD

Queen Mary Intellectual Property Research Institute, University of London

ASHGATE

Contents

List of Tables	vi
List of Acronyms	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
1 Intellectual Property in the Global Economy: High Stakes and Propaganda Warfare	17
2 Intellectual Property and Regulation Theory	25
3 The Emergence of Modern Patent Law	49
4 Organic Chemistry and the Synthetic Dyestuff Industry	73
5 The Pharmaceutical Industry	89
6 Biotechnology, Genomics and the New Life Science Corporations	135
7 Plant Breeding, the Seed Industry and Plant Breeders' Rights	175
8 Towards a Global IP Regime: Trade and Diplomacy	195
9 Forums of Resistance?	207
10 Epilogue: the Life Science Industries in a Patent-free World	237
Bibliography	247
Name Index	273
Subject Index	279