PROCEEDINGS of the
4th NORTHUMBRIA
INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE on
PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT in LIBRARIES and INFORMATION SERVICES

"Meaningful Measures for Emerging Realities"

an IFLA satellite preconference sponsored by the IFLA Section on Statistics held at
Sheraton Station Square Conference Center
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, USA
12 to 16 August 2001

Edited by:
Joan Stein
Martha Kyrillidou
Denise Davis

Association of Research Libraries
Washington, DC 2002
CONTENTS

SECTION A

Performance measures for Twenty-First Century libraries ......................................................... 1
Peter Brophy, Centre for Research in Library and Information Management, UK

Setting standards for service quality ......................................................................................... 9
Rowena Cullen, Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand

Strategic uses of evaluation and performance measurement ..................................................... 19
Geoffrey Ford, University of Bristol, UK

Technology – Pied Piper or playground bully? Or, creating meaningful measures using emerging technologies: Separating the reality from the myths ............................................ 31
Christine Koontz, Florida State University, USA

E-Metrics: measures for electronic resources ............................................................................. 37
Rush Miller, University of Pittsburgh; Sherrie Schmidt, Arizona State University, USA

Facilitating scholarly communication: cost and benefit of a digital university press ............. 43
Anna Maria Tammaro, University of Parma, Italy

Electronic services and library performance measurement: A definitional challenge ............ 51
Peter Young, Library of Congress, USA

SECTION B

Assessment of academic libraries in Andalusia (southern Spain): an EFQM-compliance guide 69
Miguel Barrionuevo and Aurora Perez, University of Cádiz, Spain

Developing national data collection methods for US public library network statistics and performance measures: findings, issues, and recommendations ........................................... 77
John Carlo Bertot and Charles McClure, Florida State University, USA

The Association of Research Libraries Statistics and Measurement program:
From descriptive data to performance measures ............................................................................ 87
Julia Blixrud, Association of Research Libraries, USA

The forging of consensus: a methodological approach to service quality assessment in research libraries – the LibQUAL+ experience ................................................................. 93
Colleen Cook and Fred Heath, Texas A&M University; Martha Kyrillidou and Duane Webster, Association of Research Libraries, USA

Academic research library support of sponsored research in the United States ..................... 105
Brinley Franklin, University of Connecticut, USA

The Academic Quality Improvement Project (AQIP) and accreditation:
When assessment is not optional .................................................................................................. 113
Jeffrey Gatten, Kent State University, USA

Activity-based costing as a performance tool for library and information technology services ........................................................................................................... 119
Trevor Gerdsen, University of Northumbria at Newcastle, Australia

Revising a standard in times of constant change: the NISO library statistics and performance measurement forum ......................................................................................... 127
Patricia Harris, National Information Standards Organization; Denise Davis, National Commission on Libraries and Information Science, USA
"BIX: the library index": A benchmarking project for German libraries .................................................. 133
Petra Klug, the Bertelsmann Foundation, Germany

Developing outcome-based indicators: Resource’s learning and access standard ........................................ 137
Gina Lane, Council for Museums, Archives, and Libraries, UK

Information policy-based indicators to assess US federal websites: Methods and issues .............................. 145
Charles McClure, Florida State University, USA

L’appetit vient en comparant: the Swiss Benchmarking Project ......................................................... 155
Ulrich Niederer, Zentral- & Hochschulbibliothek, Switzerland

Developing performance measurement and quality evaluation in Estonian research libraries: Survey of current situation ................................................................. 159
Anu Nuut, National Library of Estonia; Aira Lepik, Tallinn Pedagogical University; Toomas Litivamägi, Tartu University, Estonia

The Libecon Project: Library statistics for international benchmarking and advocacy ................................ 171
David Fuegi and Phillip Ramsdale, Institute of Public Finance Ltd.; John Sumsion, Loughborough University, UK

Recent developments to the national framework to evaluate public library performance in the UK ............ 179
David Fuegi, Martin Jennings, and Phillip Ramsdale, Institute of Public Finance Ltd., UK

Measuring performance within the bidding culture ...................................................................................... 189
Kathryn Ray, Graham Coulson, and Dr. Ken Harrop, University of Northumbria at Newcastle, UK

The attributes of information as an asset, its measurement and role in enhancing organizational effectiveness 197
Joan Stenson, Charles Oppenheint, and Richard Wilson, Loughborough University, UK

Welfare or wisdom: performance measurement of information skills education ......................................... 203
Stephen Town, Cranfield University, UK

SECTION C

Scaling for the LibQUAL+ instrument: a comparison of desired, perceived, and minimum expectations responses vs. perceived only ..................................................... 211
Colleen Cook and Bruce Thompson, Texas A&M University, USA

Service quality in cataloging: the experience of the University of Kansas Libraries .................................. 215
George Gibbs, University of Kansas, USA

Our clients’ voice: surveying users of electronic library services by telephone ......................................... 223
Sebastian Mundt, University and Regional Library of Munster, Germany

User-framed library services at Arizona State University West ................................................................. 227
Marilyn Myers, Arizona State University West, USA

Developing service quality measurement skills through an online course for librarians ............................. 235
Danuta Nitecki, Yale University, USA; Toni Olshen, York University, Canada

Dimensions of leadership and service quality: the human aspect in performance measurement ............... 245
Niels O. Pors, the Royal School of Library and Information Science, Denmark

A decade of user surveys: utilizing and assessing a standard assessment tool to measure library performance at the University of Virginia and the University of Washington ......................................................... 253
Jim Self, University of Virginia; Steve Hiller, University of Washington, USA

A new look at service level agreements ........................................................................................................ 263
Stephen Thornton and Chrissie Stewart, Defense Science and Technology Library, UK
SECTION D

Meaningful measures for individuals’ realities: evidence from the JUBILEE Project ......................................................... 269
Linda Banwell and Pat Gannon-Leary, University of Northumbria at Newcastle, UK

Made to measure: developing client-oriented statistics ................................................................. 277
Claire Creaser and J. Eric Davies, Loughborough University, UK

Performance Indicators for the ISTAR Project .............................................................................. 285
David Fuegi and Robert Davies, MDR Partners, UK

Impacts and outcomes: searching for the most elusive indicators of academic library performance ........................................................................ 291
Karin de Jager, University of Cape Town, South Africa

Library web user survey – designing online access .................................................................... 299
Carole George, Carnegie Mellon, USA

Culture of assessment as a catalyst for organizational culture change in libraries ................... 311
Amos Lakos, University of Waterloo, Canada

Getting statistics we can use ........................................................................................................ 321
Judy Luther, Informed Strategies LLC, USA

Developing meaningful measures for electronic reference services: New technology, old questions ................................................................. 331
Eric Novotny, Pennsylvania State University, USA

Preliminary statistics and measures for ARL libraries to describe electronic resources and services ................................................................. 337
Wonsik “Jeff” Shim, Charles McClure, and John Carlo Bertot, Florida State University, USA

Cost/benefit comparison of print and electronic journals in a university library: a progress report ........................................................................ 345
Jennifer Sweeney, University of California-Davis, USA

Changes in usage, usability, and user support .......................................................................... 349
Denise Troll, Carnegie Mellon, USA

AFTER-DINNER SPEAKER

Seven toasts for a summer evening in Pittsburgh
Stephen Town, Cranfield University, UK .................................................................................. 357