
Story and Sustainability

Planning, Practice, and Possibility for American Cities

edited by Barbara Eckstein and James A. Throgmorton

The MIT Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Contributors ix

Introduction: Blueprint Blues

Barbara Eckstein and James A. Throgmorton 1

I Storytelling, Sustainability, Democracy, and the American City 9

1 Making Space: Stories in the Practice of Planning

Barbara Eckstein 13

2 Imagining Sustainable Places

James A. Throgmorton 39

3 Democracy, Storytelling, and the Sustainable City

Robert A. Beauregard 65

II Raising Questions/Raising Cain 79

4 The Old Neighborhood

Carlo Rotella 87

5 Ceola's Vision, Our Blessing: The Story of an Evolving Community-University Partnership in East St. Louis, Illinois

Kenneth M. Reardon 113

6 Dreaming the Sustainable City: Organizing Hope, Negotiating Fear, Mediating Memory

Leonie Sandercock 143

7 In Search of a New Landfill Site

Michael Berkshire 167

8 Narrative and Other Tools
Seymour J. Mandelbaum	185
9 The Peninsula
Karin Franklin	195
10 Tales of a Geographer-Planner
Edward W. Soja	207
11 The Meanest Streets
Joe Barthel	227
Notes	243
References	249
Index	261