

Eating Culture

The Poetics and Politics of Food

Edited by

TOBIAS DÖRING

MARKUS HEIDE

SUSANNE MÜHLEISEN

Universitätsverlag

WINTER

Heidelberg

CONTENTS

Introduction
Writing/Eating Culture	1
Part One
CULINARY POLITICS: CREOLIZATION AND IDENTIFICATION
Sidney W. Mintz
Eating Communities: The Mixed Appeals of Sodality	19
Berndt Ostendorf
"Jambalaya, Crawfish Pie, File Gumbo": The Creolizing Cuisines of New Orleans	35
Ching Lin Pang
Beyond 'Authenticity': Reinterpreting Chinese Immigrant Food in Belgium	53
Susanne Mühleisen
Globalized Tongues: The Cultural Semantics of Food Names	71
Shirley Tate
Talking Identities: Food, Black 'Authenticity' and Hybridity	89
Part Two
EDIBLE FICTIONS: THE POETICS OF FOOD WRITING AND TRANSLATION
Heike Paul
Tasting America: Food, Race, and Anti-American Sentiments in Nineteenth-Century German-American Writing	109
Mark Stein
Curry at Work: Nibbling at the Jewel in the Crown	133

Rüdiger Kunow
Eating Indian(s): Food, Representation, and the Indian Diaspora in the United States	151
Susanne Reichl
"Like a Beacon Against the Cold": Food and the Construction of Ethnic Identities in Black British Novels	177
Sarah Moss
Fetching Broth from Hartfield: Sustaining the Body Politic in Jane Austen's Emma	195
Part Three
VISUAL PLEASURES: FOOD IMAGES AND THE HUNGRY GAZE
Renate Brosch
Visual Victual: Iconographies of Food and Dining in Nineteenth-Century England	209
Julika Griem
A Room of One's Own? Contested Culinary and Filmic Space in The Scent of Green Papaya , Eat Drink Man Woman , and Tampopo	241
Kevin Dwyer
Alimentary Delinquency in the Cinema	255
Notes on Contributors	273
Index	277