Resources, Planning, and Environmental Management in a Changing Caribbean

Edited by

David Barker and Duncan McGregor

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE WEST INDIES PRESS
Barbados • Jamaica • Trinidad and Tobago
Contents

List of Figures .................................................................................................................. vii
List of Tables ................................................................................................................... ix
Preface .............................................................................................................................. xiii
Acknowledgements .......................................................................................................... xv

1 Environment, Resources, and Development: Some Reflections on the Caribbean Research Agenda ............... 1
   Duncan McGregor and David Barker

2 Gender and Development in the Jamaican Small-Scale Marketing System: From the 1660s to the Millennium and Beyond ................................................................................ 11
   Jean Besson

3 The Apparent Inflexibility of Small-Scale Farmers to Changes in Grenada's Political-Economic Environment 1982-1992 .................................................................................. 37
   John S. Brierley

4 Yam Production and the Yam Stick Trade in Jamaica: Integrated Problems for Resource Management ........... 57
   David Barker and Clinton Beckford

5 Forest Resource Use in Amerindian Villages in Guyana: Implications for Development Policy ..................... 75
   Caroline Sullivan

6 Rural Poverty and Development Planning: A Case Study of Moruga and Cocal in South-East Trinidad .......... 113
   Judy Rocke

7 Vulnerability, Urbanization, and Environmental Hazard in Coastal Guyana ................................................ 133
   Mark Pelling

8 The Responses of Residents of Nevis to Hurricane Threat: The Case of Hurricane Hugo ......................... 153
   Alexis Hobson
Contents

9 Matching Sustainable Tourism with Socialist Goals: Can Cuba Have It All? ........................................... 173
   Sue Bleasdale and Sue Tapsell

10 Resort Evolution in a Narrowly Based Economy of the Pleasure Periphery: A Case Study of Montego Bay, Jamaica ................................................................. 197
   Rhonda L. Koster and Adrian A. Seaborne

11 Urbanization and Planning Issues in Montego Bay, Jamaica ................................................................. 225
   Bernard D. Thraves

12 Sustainable Socio-Economic Development for European Union Member States' External Regions and Territories in the Caribbean for the Twenty-first Century .................................... 245
   Calbert H. Douglas

Contributors ........................................................................................................................................... 279