Contents

[List of Illustrations] vii
[Notes on Contributors] viii
[Acknowledgements] xi

[Introduction]
Erik Borgman and Bart Philipsen

1 Religious Canon and Literary Identity
Mieke Bal

2 Why 'Remember Lot's wife'? Religious Identity and the Literary Canon
Elisabeth Jay

3 Literature and Theology – a Mutual Challenge: Reflections on a Personal Literary Canon
Karl-Josef Kuschel

4 Canetti as Religionist? The Redemption of Fiction for Social Analysis in Crowds and power
William Collins Donahue

5 Ethics and Hermeneutics: a Question of Memory
Pamela Sue Anderson

6 Writing on/Living after Auschwitz
Bart Philipsen

7 ‘Also existiert das alles wirklich so, wie wir’s in der Schule gelernt haben?!’ Freud’s Acropolis Experience as an Encounter with the Sacred/Object of Faith
Gerda Elata-Alster

8 William Blake and the Post-colonial Imagination in Australia
Michael Griffith
9 Religious Myth and Subversion in The God of Small Things
Chelva Kanaganayakam

10 Jeanette Winterson: Postmodern Prophet of the Word
Cindie Aaen Maagaard

11 Cynthia Ozick's The Messiah of Stockholm
Miriam Sivan

12 Literary Games and Faith: the Problem of Michel Tournier’s
Scriptural bricolage
Mariska Koopman-Thurlings

13 Wallace Stevens: Appearing in Difference
D. L. Bird

14 Becoming Religion: the Poetry of John Ashbery
James Heath Atchley

Index