German-Jewish Identities in America

Edited by Christof Mauch and Joseph Salmons

Studies of the Max Kade Institute for German-American Studies University of Wisconsin–Madison
Contents

Preface
ix

Contributors
x

Introduction
Christof Mauch and Joseph Salmons
1

1. German Jews and the American-Jewish Synthesis
Henry Feingold
8

2. “Give to the Poor! Yourself You’ll Bless!” Jewish Charities in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 1850–1914
Anke Ortlepp
21

3. “We Are Brothers! Let Us Separate”: Jewish Immigrants in Chicago between Gemeinde and Network Community before 1880
Tobias Brinkmann
40

4. Shaping the American Jewish Community: The Independent Order of B’nai B’rith, 1843–1914
Cornelia Wilhelm
64

5. Franz Boas as German, American, and Jew
Mitchell B. Hart
88

6. German Jews and American Show Business: A Reconsideration
Harley Erdman
106
| 7. | German Jews and Ostjuden in the American South: Alfred Uhry's Last Night of Ballyhoo
Thomas Kovach | 117 |
| 8. | I Always Thought I Was a German—It Was Hitler Who Taught Me I Was a Jew”: National-Socialist Persecution, Identity, and the German Language
Monika S. Schmid | 133 |
| 9. | German Jew or Jewish German?: Post-Immigration Questions
Manfred Kirchheimer | 154 |

Index
164