Contents

Editor's Note vii

Introduction 1
   Harold Bloom

The Function of Rubashov's Toothache in Koestler's Darkness at Noon 3
   Annette Edwards Platt

Darkness at Noon and the 'Grammatical Fiction' 15
   Goronwy Rees

Arthur Koestler: On Messiahs and Mutations 31
   Mark Levene

Darkness at Noon 49
   Sidney A. Pearson, Jr.

The Mind on Trial: Darkness at Noon 65
   Mark Levene

Viewpoints and Voices: Serge and Koestler on the Great Terror 83
   W. Marshall

Orwell versus Koestler: Nineteen Eighty-Four as Optimistic Satire 109
   Howard Fink

Darkness at Noon and the Political Novel 121
   Reed B. Merrill

The "Post-Colonialism" of Cold War Discourse 131
   William Pietz
Contents

Comment on an Aspect of Pietz's Argument 153
   Anders Stephanson

Eternity in Darkness at Noon and the Consolation of Philosophy 161
   Robert Sutherland

War, 1938–42 177
   David Cesarani

A Cold War Best-Seller: The Reaction to
Arthur Koestler's Darkness at Noon in France from 1945 to 1950 223
   Martine Poulain

Chronology 235

Contributors 239

Bibliography 243

Acknowledgments 247

Index 249