History, Nationhood and the Question of Britain

Edited by Helen Brockethurst
and
Robert Phillips
Contents

Foreword
Norman Davies
ix

Acknowledgements
xi

Notes on the Contributors
xii

Introduction
Helen Brocklehurst and Robert Phillips
xx

Part I Historiographical Britains

1. British History and the Generation of Change
Keith Robbins
3

2. Four Nations History in Perspective
Hugh Kearney
10

Neil Evans
20

4. Enlightenment Historiography and its Legacy: Plurality, Authority and Power
Murray G.H. Pittock
33

5. Three Fables of Britishness
Arthur Aughey
45

Part II British Identity: Change and Continuity

6. Perspectives on Irish Identity, Nationalism and Ethnicity
Alan O'Day
57

7. Redefining Britannia: The Role of 'Marginal' Generations in Reshaping British National Consciousness
June Edmunds
73

8. Britishness out of Immigration and Anti-Racism
Tariq Modood
85

9. The Place of Ulster: Alternative Loyalist Identities
Brian Graham
99
10. Civic or Ethnic? The Evolution of Britishness and Scottishness
   Atsuko Ichijo
   112

11. Britain as Island: National Identity and the Sea
   Ken Lunn and Ann Day
   124

12. The Island Garden: English Landscape and British Identity
   David Lowenthal
   137

Part III British Identity: Historical and Political Narratives

13. ‘Four Nations Prehistory’: Cores and Archetypes in the Writing of Prehistory
   Gordon J. Barclay
   151

   Katherine J. Lewis
   160

15. Antithesis: How to Create a Nation
   Sarah Barber
   171

16. 449 and All That: Nineteenth- and Twentieth-century Interpretations of the ‘Anglo-Saxon Invasion’ of Britain
   Richard Floyd
   184

17. Elite Power and British Political Identity: The Irish Elite in the ‘British World’
   Jennifer Ridden
   197

18. Nationalism and National Identity in British Politics, c.1880s to 1914
   Paul Ward
   213

Part IV Empire and its Legacies

19. Britain and the Other: The Archaeology of Imperialism
   Margarita Díaz-Andreu
   227

20. The End of Empire and the Fate of Britishness
   Stuart Ward
   242

21. Empire and British National Identity, 1815–1914
   Bernard Porter
   259

22. Lessons in Englishness and Empire, c.1880–1914: Further Thoughts on the English/British Conundrum
   Peter Yeandle
   274
Part V Heritage, Commemoration and Trauma

23. The Youth of Our Nation in Symbol: Making and Remaking the Masculine Ideal in the Era of the Two World Wars
   Michael Paris 289

   Adam I.P. Smith 302

25. (D)evolving Identities: Changing Representations of National Identity in Scottish and Welsh Museums
   Rhiannon Mason 312

26. White Past, Multicultural Present: Heritage and National Stories
   Jo Littler and Roshi Naidoo 330

27. Rethinking 'Footnotes' to British/Irish History: Vernacular Historiographies, Folk Commemoration and 'Porous Meta-narratives'
   Guy Beiner 342

28. Ulster-British Identity and the Cultural Memory of 'Ethnic Cleansing' on the Northern Ireland Border
   Graham Dawson 356

Part VI English Stories and 'the' National Past?

29. 'I Was Meditating about England': The Importance of Rural England for the Construction of 'Englishness'
   Christine Berberich 375

30. 'You're History!' Media Representation, Nationhood and the National Past
   Helen Brocklehurst and Robert Phillips 386

31. Heroes and Demons as Historical Bookmarks in the English Popular Press
   Martin Conboy 399

General Bibliography 411

Index 455