The Image of the Jew in European Liberal Culture, 1789–1914

Editors

Bryan Cheyette
Nadia Valman
Contents

Introduction: Liberalism and Anti-semitism
Bryan Cheyette and Nadia Valman 1

AFTER ENLIGHTENMENT
Towards a Comparative Jewish Literary History:
National Literary Canons in Nineteenth-Century Germany and England
Nils Roemer 27

Africans, Indians, Arabs, and Scots:
Jewish and Other Questions in the Age of Empire
Michael Galchinsky 46

The Homeless Nation:
The Exclusion of Jews in and from Early Nineteenth-Century German Historical Fiction
Jefferson S. Chase 61

Distinctiveness and Change:
The Depiction of Jews in Theodor Fontane and Other Bourgeois Realist Authors
Florian Krobb 75

FIN DE SIÈCLE JEWS
Building the Body of the Nation:
Lombroso’s L’antisemitismo and Fin-de-Siècle Italy
David Forgacs 96

‘Barbarous and Mediaeval’:
Jewish Marriage in Fin de Siècle English Fiction
Nadia Valman 111

Max Nordau and the Generation of Jewish Muscle
Marilyn Reizbaum 130

AFTER DREJUS
Textual and Tribal Assimilation:
Representing Jewishness in A la recherche du temps perdu
Edward J. Hughes 152
Péguy, the Jews and the Jewish Question

Liberalism, Anglo-Jewry and the Diasporic Imagination: Herbert Samuel via Israel Zangwill, 1890–1914

The Representation of Jews on Edwardian Postcards

Notes on Contributors

Index