From Script to Stage in Early Modern England

Edited by

Peter Holland

and

Stephen Orgel

Redefining British Theatre History Series
General Editor: Peter Holland
In Association with the Huntington Library
Contents

List of Illustrations vii

Notes on Contributors viii

Series Introduction: Redefining British Theatre History xi
Peter Holland

Introduction: a View from the Stage 1
Stephen Orgel

I. Questions of Evidence

1. Henslowe's Rose/Shakespeare's Globe 11
   R. A. Foakes

2. Masks, Mimes and Miracles: Medieval English Theatricality
   and its Illusions 32
   Richard Beadle

3. Theatre Without Drama: Reading REED 43
   Peter Holland

II. Interrogating Data

4. A New Theatre Historicism 71
   Andrew Gurr

5. Staging Evidence 89
   Anthony B. Dawson

III. What is a Play?

6. Drama in the Archives: Recognizing Medieval Plays 111
   Claire Sponsler

7. E/loco/com/motion 131
   Bruce R. Smith

8. Re-patching the Play 151
   Tiffany Stern
IV. Women's Work

9. Slanderous Aesthetics and the Woman Writer: the Case of Hole v. White
   Carolyn Sale 181

10. Labours Lost: Women's Work and Early Modern Theatrical Commerce
    Natasha Korda 195

11. The Sharer and His Boy: Rehearsing Shakespeare's Women
    Scott McMillin 231

Index 246