From Slave Trade to Empire
Europe and the colonisation of Black Africa 1780s–1880s

Edited by Olivier Pétré-Grenouilleau
Contents

List of illustrations xi
List of contributors xiii

1 Introduction: a missing link? The significance of the 1780s–1880s 1
OLIVIER PÉTRÉ-GRENOUILLEAU, TRANSLATED BY JUDITH CHRISTIE

PART I
Economic relations between Europe and sub-Saharan Africa: a global weighing-up 19

2 African and European relations in the last century of the transatlantic slave trade 21
DAVID ELTIS

3 Background to annexation: Anglo-African credit relations in the Bight of Biafra, 1700–1891 47
DAVID RICHARDSON

4 Economic relations between Europe and Black Africa c.1780–1938: a quantitative analysis 69
BOUDA ETEMAD
PART II
Southern Europe and Germany: about the 'imperialism of the poor' and the desire for power 83

5 An imperialism with no economic basis: the case of Italy, 1869–1939 85
ROMAIN H. RAINERO

6 Continental drift: the independence of Brazil (1822), Portugal and Africa 98
LUI S FELIPE DE A LENC ASTRO, TRANSLATED BY JUDITH CHRISTIE

7 The Portuguese Empire, 1825–90: ideology and economics 110
VALENTIM ALEXANDRE

8 The Scramble for Africa: icon and idiom of modernity 133
ALBERT WIRZ AND ANDREAS ECKERT

PART III
France: from a civilising mission to the highest form of mercantilism? 155

9 Cultural systems of representation, economic interests and French penetration into Black Africa, 1780s–1880s 157
OLIVIER PÉTRÉ-GRENOUILLEAU, TRANSLATED BY JUDITH CHRISTIE

10 The place and role of the players in colonial expansion: France and east Africa in the nineteenth century 185
VALÉRIE VALEY

11 Commercial presence, colonial penetration: Marseille traders in west Africa in the nineteenth century 209
XAVIER DAUMALIN

Afterword: towards a cosmopolitan history of imperialism 231
A.G. HOPKINS

Index 245