Ebonics
The Urban Education Debate
Second Edition

Edited by
J. David Ramirez, Terrence G. Wiley,
Gerda de Klerk, Enid Lee and
Wayne E. Wright
Contents

Acknowledgements ................................................................. vii

Introduction ........................................................................... ix

Part 1: Ebonics in the Urban Education Debate
1 Ebonics: Background to the Current Policy Debate
   Terrence G. Wiley ............................................................... 3
2 Using the Vernacular to Teach the Standard
   John R. Rickford .............................................................. 18
3 Educational Implications of Ebonics
   John Baugh ......................................................................... 41
4 Black Language and the Education of Black Children:
   One Mo Once
   Geneva Smitherman .......................................................... 49
5 Ebonics and Education in the Context of Culture:
   Meeting the Language and Cultural Needs of LEP
   African American Students
   Subira Kifano and Ernie A. Smith ....................................... 62
6 Language Varieties in the School Curriculum: Where
   Do They Belong and How Will They Get There?
   Carolyn Temple Adger ...................................................... 96

Part 2: Background to the Ebonics Debate
Introduction ........................................................................... 111

Oakland Unified School District's Resolution
A Original Oakland Unified School District (OUSD)
   Resolution on Ebonics ...................................................... 115
   Policy Statement ............................................................. 118
   Clarification: Synopsis of the Adopted Policy on Standard American English Language Development .......... 120
   Legislative Intent ............................................................. 122
Appendix 1: OUSD Findings ............................................. 124
Appendix 2: OUSD Core Curriculum Standards at Benchmark Grade Levels ............................................. 125
Appendix 3: Overview of OUSD Recommendations ............................................. 126
Amended Resolution ............................................. 128
Appendix 4: Bibliography ............................................. 131

Examples Of Legislative Reaction
B Congressional Response, 105th Congress ............................................. 135
State Reaction: Virginia General Assembly 1997 ............................................. 136
Proposed California Legislation: S.B. 205 “Equality in English Instruction Act” ............................................. 142
John Rickford’s response, “S.B. 205 – Well Intentioned, but Uniformed” ............................................. 149

Legal Background
C Martin Luther King Junior School v. Ann Arbor School District Board ............................................. 155

Linguists’ Reactions
D A Linguist looks at the Ebonics Debate
Charles Fillmore ............................................. 161
Ebonics and Linguistic Science: Clarifying the Issues
Walter Wolfram ............................................. 170
Dialect Readers Revisited
John R. Rickford and Angela E. Rickford ............................................. 178
Congressional Testimony
William Labov ............................................. 180

Organizational Responses
E Policy Statement of the TESOL Board on African American Vernacular English ............................................. 185
Policy Statement of the American Association for Applied Linguistics (AAAL) on the Application of Dialect Knowledge to Education ............................................. 186
Center for Applied Linguistics (CAL) Statement to the Media on Ebonics ............................................. 189
California Association for Bilingual Education (CABE) Position Statement on Ebonics ............................................. 191

Recommended Readings on Ebonics
F Scholarly References and News Titles
Wayne E. Wright ............................................. 199