CRITICAL ESSAYS ON THE WORKS OF AMERICAN AUTHOR DOROTHY ALLISON
Critical Essays on the Works of American Author Dorothy Allison
Edited by Christine Blouch and Laurie Vickroy

Table of Contents

Preface by Carole DeSanti i

Acknowledgments viii

Introduction 1

Part I. Trauma, Transformations and Transgressions

‘A Child Is Being Beaten’: Dorothy Allison’s Testimony of Trauma and Abuse in Bastard Out of Carolina 9

–Suzette A. Henke, University of Louisville

The Transformational Power of Shame: Masturbation, Religion, and White Trash Myths in Bastard Out of Carolina 29

–Tania Friedel, New York University

Vengeance is Fleeting: Masculine Transgressions in the Works of Dorothy Allison 55

–Laurie Vickroy, Bradley University

Part II. Literary and Critical Connections

Meeting at a Barbecue: Dorothy Allison, Zora Neale Hurston, and Apocalyptic Literary Miscegenation 71

–Julia C. Ehrhardt, University of Oklahoma

Embracing Pariahdom: The Bastard Theme in Dorothy Allison’s Bastard Out of Carolina 91

–Carolyn Kraus, University of Michigan–Dearborn

Part III. Violence and the Body

‘Shotgun Strategies’: Working Class Literature and Violence 113

–Renny Christopher, California State University, Channel Islands

The Burden of Surviving: The Ambiguous Body in Dorothy Allison’s Fiction 129

–Sherryl Vint, St. Francis Xavier University

Dorothy Allison: A Critical Bibliography 159

Index 163