Postcolonial Wales

edited by Jane Aaron
and Chris Williams

UNIVERSITY OF WALES PRESS
CARDIFF
2005
Contents

List of Figures vii
Notes on Contributors ix
Preface xv
Jane Aaron and Chris Williams

PART I: IS WALES POSTCOLONIAL? NATION, 'RACE' AND HISTORY

1 Problematizing Wales: An Exploration in Historiography and Postcoloniality 3
   Chris Williams

2 In the Shadow of the First-born: The Colonial Legacy in Welsh Politics 23
   Richard Wyn Jones

3 Island Stories and Border Crossings: School History and the Discursive Creation of National Identity in Wales 39
   Robert Phillips

4 'We Never Really Noticed You Were Coloured': Postcolonialist Reflections on Immigrants and Minorities in Wales 55
   Glenn Jordan
PART II: A QUIET REVOLUTION? DEVOLUTION AND POSTCOLONIALITY

5 'Maîtres chez nous'? Awaiting the Quiet Revolution in Wales 85
   Alys Thomas

6 A New Beginning or the Beginning of the End? The Welsh Language in Postcolonial Wales 100
   Dylan Phillips

7 Women's Political Participation and the Welsh Assembly 114
   Paul Chaney

PART III: A POSTCOLONIAL CULTURE? WELSH CULTURAL DIFFERENCE

8 Bardic Anti-colonialism 137
   Jane Aaron

9 Welsh Fiction in English as Postcolonial Literature 159
   Stephen Knight

10 Dramatic Fictions in a Postcolonial Wales 177
    Steve Blandford

11 What's in the ‘Post’? Mass Media as a ‘Site of Struggle’ 193
    David M. Barlow

12 Postcolonial Music in Contemporary Wales: Hybrids and Weird Geographies 215
    Dai Griffiths and Sarah Hill

13 Horizon Wales: Visual Art and the Postcolonial 234
    Iwan Bala

Index 251