Contents

Preface .................................................. 7
   LINDA LEAVELL, CRISTANNE MILLER,
   AND ROBIN G. SCHULZE
Acknowledgments ...................................... 17
Abbreviations ........................................ 21
Kirkwood and Kindergarten: A Modernist’s Childhood ........................................ 25
   LINDA LEAVELL
Marianne Moore and the Seventeenth Century ...................................................... 40
   PATRICIA C. WILLIS
“What is War For?”: Moore’s Development of an Ethical Poetry .............................. 56
   CRISTANNE MILLER
“Injudicious Gardening”: Marianne Moore, Gender, and the Hazards of Domestication ...................................................... 74
   ROBIN G. SCHULZE
Poems by GRACE SCHULMAN
   In the Country of Urgency, There Is a Language .............................................. 90
   American Solitude ....................................................................................................... 92
   Eve’s Unnaming ......................................................................................................... 94
Poems by CYNTHIA HOGUE
   In Distrust of Good ..................................................................................................... 95
   Hope Is an Orientation of the Spirit ........................................................................... 96
   What Matters Today Is the Spirit of the Modern .................................................... 97
Relentless Accuracy and a Capacity for Fact:
   Authorship in Marianne Moore and Gertrude Stein ............................................ 98
   HEATHER CASS WHITE
Mannerist Moore: Poetry, Painting, Photography .................................................... 113
   STACY-CARSON HUBBARD
"The magnitude of their root systems": "An Octopus" and National Character 137

FIONA GREEN

The “Not-Native” Moore: Hybridity and Heroism in the Thirties 150

CHARLES BERGER

Flamboyant Reticence: An Irish Incognita 165

LAURA O’CONNOR

Poems by JEREDITH MERRIN

Bat Ode 184

Parasailing in Cancún 185

Poems by JOANIE MACKOWSKI

View from the Bluff 188

Wild 190

Zeroes, veers, 190

El Greco’s Daughter: Necessary Deflection in Marianne Moore’s “For February 14th” and “Saint Valentine” 192

ELIZABETH WILSON

“Combat Cultural”: Marianne Moore and the Mixed Brow 208

ELIZABETH GREGORY

Marianne Moore Today 222

BENJAMIN FRIEDLANDER

Poems by JEANNE HEUVING

Fortunate Torsos 240

Fine Reticule 240

Brows 240

Grays 241

Drowse 241

Douse 241

Furrow 242

Poem by LISA M. STEINMAN

Marriage— 244

Bibliography 246

Contributors 257

Index 261