Festivals and Tourism: Marketing, Management and Evaluation

edited by

Philip Long
Mike Robinson
Contents

Festivals and Tourism: links and developments
Phil Long, Mike Robinson and David Picard ................................................................. 1

Section 1
Marketing and Markets

Cultural Event Tourism: modelling performing arts tourism events and effective marketing strategies
Pandora Kay ...................................................................................................................... 15

Motivations for Attendance at the 2001 Sidmouth International Festival: fun, family, friends, fulfilment or folk?
Peter Mason and John Beaumont-Kerridge ................................................................. 33

Festival Planning: the case of the 2000 Daejeon Science Festival, Korea
Hoon Lee, Gang Hoan Jeong and Ralph Cousins .......................................................... 47

Addressing Sensibilities: a rationale for an ‘inclusive’ approach to festival programming and promotion
Richard Voase .............................................................................................................. 59

Section 2
Planning, Management and Operations

Event Management: identifying key success factors for bidding
Lizl Steynberg and Melville Saayman ........................................................................... 67

Modelling cultural special events management in an Egyptian context
Galal Salem, Eleri Jones and Nigel Morgan ............................................................... 87

The 30 Second Tourism Event – a total eclipse of the sun in outback Australia
Linley C. Hartmann, Graham Brown ........................................................................ 101

Rock Festivals and Tourist Safety: regulation in the European Union
Susanne Storm ........................................................................................................... 115

Safety at Cultural Festivals and Events: legal implications of a soft law approach
Jan Timmermann Pedersen ....................................................................................... 129
Section 3
Impacts and Evaluations

Economic Impact of Festivals in the United States: a case study of the Scottish Highland Games
Deepak Chhabra .......................................................................................................................... 139

Festival Tourism in the Caribbean: An economic impact assessment
Keith Nurse .................................................................................................................................. 151

The Dubai Shopping Festival as a catalyst for tourist development and urban transformation
Hisham S. Gabr ........................................................................................................................ 161

Porto 2001, European Capital of Culture: re-contextualising the event in a global competitive environment
Paula Alexandra Malta, Maria Inês Pinho, José Escaleira ....................................................... 175

The Impacts of Mega-events: the case of EXPO'98 – Lisbon
Jonathan Edwards, Miguel Moital and Roger Vaughan ......................................................... 195

Index .......................................................................................................................................... 217