
Caribbean Literature and the Environment

BETWEEN NATURE AND CULTURE

Edited by Elizabeth M. DeLoughrey,
Renée K. Gosson, and George B. Handley

New World Studies

A. James Arnold, editor

University of Virginia Press
Charlottesville and London

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	1
Elizabeth M. DeLoughrey, Renée K. Gosson, and George B. Handley
PART 1
Natural Histories
Sugar and the Environment in Cuba	33
Antonio Benítez-Rojo
Isla Incognita	51
Derek Walcott
Shaping the Environment: Sugar Plantation, or Life after Indentured Labor	58
Cyril Dabydeen
Coffee and Colonialism in Julia Alvarez's A Cafecito Story	70
Trenton Hickman
PART 2
Myths of Origins
Subjection and Resistance in the Transformation of Guyana's Mytho-Colonial Landscape	85
Shona N. Jackson
A Long Bilingual Conversation Concerning Paradise Lost: Landscapes in Haitian Art	99
LeGrace Benson

“Caribbean Genesis”: Language, Gardens, Worlds (Jamaica Kincaid, Derek Walcott, Édouard Glissant) Jana Evans Braziel	110
“The Argument of the Outboard Motor”: An Interview with Derek Walcott George B. Handley	127
PART 3
Hybridity and Creolization
Cultural and Environmental Assimilation in Martinique: An Interview with Raphaël Confiant Renée K. Gosson	143
Moving the Caribbean Landscape: Cereus Blooms at Night as a Re-imagination of the Caribbean Environment Isabel Hoving	154
“Rosebud is my mama, stanfaste is my papa”: Hybrid Landscapes and Sexualities in Surinamese Oral Literature Natasha Tinsley	169
“He of the Trees”: Nature, Environment, and Creole Religiosities in Caribbean Literature Lizabeth Paravisini-Gebert	182
PART 4
Aesthetics of the Earth
“Man Fitting the Landscape”: Nature, Culture, and Colonialism Helen Tiffin	199

Flashbacks of an Orchid: Rhizomatic Narration in Patrick Chamoiseau's Biblique des derniers gestes Heidi Bojsen	213
Landscapes, Narratives, and Tropical Nature: Creole Modernity in Suriname Ineke Phaf-Rheinberger	225
The Uses of Landscape: Ecocriticism and Martinican Cultural Theory Eric Prieto	236
From Living Nature to Borderless Culture in Wilson Harris's Work Hena Maes-Jelinek	247
Epilogue: Theatre of the Arts Wilson Harris	261
Bibliography	269
Contributors	291
Index	297