CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction 1
Ronald Kahn and Ken I. Kersch

PART I: RETHINKING THE LAW VERSUS POLITICS
DICHOTOMY: THE INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL IN SUPREME COURT DECISION MAKING

1. Legal, Strategic or Legal Strategy: Deciding to Decide during the Civil War and Reconstruction 33
Mark A. Graber

2. Social Constructions, Supreme Court Reversals, and American
Political Development: Lochner, Plessy, Bowers, but Not Roe 67
Ronald Kahn

PART II: THE SUPREME COURT AND GOVERNING POLITICAL ORDERS AND REGIMES

3. The Supreme Court and the National Political Order: Collaboration and Confrontation 117
Mark Tushnet

4. Party Politics and Constitutional Change: The Political Origins of Liberal Judicial Activism 138
Howard Gillman

5. The New Deal Triumph as the End of History? The Judicial
Negotiation of Labor Rights and Civil Rights 169
Ken I. Kersch
PART III: CONSTRUCTING AUTHORITATIVE CONSTITUTIONAL MEANING

6. (Re)Construction of Constitutional Authority and Meaning: The Fourteenth Amendment and Slaughter-House Cases 229
   Wayne D. Moore

7. The Civil Rights Cases and the Lost Language of State Neglect 275
   Pamela Brandwein

PART IV. INSIDERS AND OUTSIDERS: DEVELOPMENT AND THE CONSTRUCTION OF CONSTITUTIONAL INCLUSION

   Julie Novkov

   Carol Nackenoff

10. From Bakke to Grutter: The Rise of Rights-Based Conservatism 414
    Thomas M. Keck

Conclusion: Supreme Court Decision Making and American Political Development 443
    Ronald Kahn and Ken I. Kersch

Contributors 465

Index 469