Meeting the Challenge of 9/11
Blueprints for More Effective Government

Edited by Thomas H. Stanton

Foreword by Admiral James Loy

NATIONAL ACADEMY OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
TRANSFORMATIONAL TRENDS IN GOVERNANCE AND DEMOCRACY

M.E. Sharpe
Armonk, New York
London, England
Contents

Foreword ix
Preface and Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction: Meeting the Challenge of September 11
   Thomas H. Stanton 1

Part 1. Public Administration since September 11

   Thomas H. Stanton 25

2. Developing the Domestic Security State
   James D. Carroll 71

Part 2. Organizing for More Effective Government

   Frederick M. Kaiser 93

   Alan L. Dean and Dwight Ink 105

5. The Need for an Office of Federal Management: Now More than Ever
   Ronald C. Moe 119

6. Observations on Organization and Management
   Murray Comarow 155
7. Managing Change that Makes a Difference
   Dwight Ink
   166

8. Developments in the Federal Performance Management
   Movement: Balancing Conflicting Values in GPRA and PART
   Beryl A. Radin
   199

Part 4. Addressing Critical Issues

9. The Many Cultures of Government
   Michael Maccoby
   219

    Constitutional Choices
    Dan Guttman
    230

11. Improving the Military Personnel System
    Cindy Williams
    274

12. Will Homeland Security Transform Intergovernmental Management?
    Enid Beaumont and Bruce D. McDowell
    293

13. Improving Federal Relations with States, Localities, and
    Private Organizations on Matters of Homeland Security:
    The Stakeholder Council Model
    Thomas H. Stanton
    315

About the Editor and Contributors
   333

Index
   337