Table of Contents

Acknowledgments

vii

Introduction

Daniel T. O’Hara

1

I. Critical Contexts

The Henry James Revival of the 1930s

David Garrett Izzo

13

II. Selective Overviews: Men and Women

Three Aesthetes in Profile: Gilbert Osmond, Mark Ambient, and Gabriel Nash

Maurizio Ascari

35

Killing Mothers: Decadent Women in James's Literary Tales

Donatella Izzo

55

III. Contemporaneous Connections

"The Master in the Middle Distance": Max Beerbohm, Henry James and Literary Forgery

Maurizio Ascari

87

"At All Times Conspicuous as Art": Henry James, Margaret Oliphant, and Resistance to Decadence

Solveig C. Robinson

97
Table of Contents

IV. Issues of Representation: Art and Fiction

The Face of Decadence in The Sacred Fount
SHEILA TEAHAN 109

Figuring the Princess: The Princess Casamassima and Pater's Mona Lisa
ANDREA CABUS-COLDWELL 123

On Not Representing Milly Theale: Sacrificing for Art in The Wings of the Dove
MARK CONROY 134

"The Figure in the Carpet" as an Allegory of Reading
VITTORIA INTONTI 157

V. Decadence, Identity, and Homosexuality

On the Ladder of Social Observation: Images of Decadence and Morality in James's Washington Square and Wilde's An Ideal Husband
JAMES FISHER 167

The Importance of Being Henry James: What the Master Learned from Oscar Wilde
ROBERT COMBS 186

Papa, Postcards, Perfume, Phallic Keys: James, Symonds, and Late-Victorian Fictions of Homosexuality
STEPHENV DA SILVA 201

A Pair of Afterwords
DAVID GARRETT IZZO 229

About the Contributors 239

Index 243