Contents

Notes on Contributors xi

Introduction 1
Francis O’Gorman

1. ‘Even these metallic problems have their melodramatic side’: Money in Victorian Literature 17
Nicholas Shrimpton

2. Inside Out: Value and Display in Thomas De Quincey and Isaac Butt 39
Gordon Bigelow

3. Edward Bulwer Lytton Dreams of Copyright: ‘It might make me a rich man’ 55
Catherine Seville

4. ‘Vulgar needs’: Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Profit, and Literary Value 73
Alison Chapman

5. The Drama of Capital: Risk, Belief, and Liability on the Victorian Stage 91
Jane Moody

6. ‘Ladies do it?’: Victorian Women Investors in Fact and Fiction 111
Nancy Henry

7. Literary Realism in the Wake of Business Cycle Theory: The Way We Live Now (1875) 133
Tara McGann

8. Speculative Fictions and the Fortunes of H. Rider Haggard 157
Francis O’Gorman

9. Cultural versus Financial Capital: Defining Literary Value at the Fin de Siècle 173
Josephine M. Guy

Selected Bibliography 193
Index 199