CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

Richard Begam and Michael Valdez Moses • Introduction 1

PART ONE • Victorian Backgrounds

1 Nicholas Daly • Colonialism and Popular Literature at the Fin de Siècle 19

PART TWO • Modern British Literature

2 Michael Valdez Moses • Disorientalism: Conrad and the Imperial Origins of Modernist Aesthetics 43

3 Jed Esty • Virginia Woolf’s Colony and the Adolescence of Modernist Fiction 70

4 Andrzej Gasiorek • War, “Primitivism,” and the Future of “the West”: Reflections on D. H. Lawrence and Wyndham Lewis 91

5 Vincent Sherry • T. S. Eliot, Late Empire, and Decadence 111
6 Brian May : Romancing the Stump: Modernism and Colonialism in Forster's A Passage to India 136

7 Rita Barnard : “A tangle of modernism and barbarity”: Evelyn Waugh's Black Mischief 162

PART THREE : Ireland and Scotland

8 Richard Begam : Joyce's Trojan Horse: Ulysses and the Aesthetics of Decolonization 185

9 Nicholas Allen : Yeats, Spengler, and A Vision after Empire 209

10 Maria DiBattista : Elizabeth Bowen's Troubled Modernism 226

11 Ian Duncan : “Upon the thistle they're impaled”: Hugh MacDiarmid’s Modernist Nationalism 246

PART FOUR : Toward the Postcolonial

12 Declan Kiberd : Postcolonial Modernism? 269

13 Jahan Ramazani : Modernist Bricolage, Postcolonial Hybridity 288

Contributors 315

Index 319