Brief Contents

Detailed Contents vii
Rhetorical Contents xxv
Preface xxxi

1 A Writer Reads 1
2 A Reader Writes 21
3 Academic Writing 43
4 Writing an Argument 79
5 Reading and Writing about Pictures 121
6 All in the Family 143
7 Identities 195
8 Immigrant Nation 257
9 Teaching and Learning 283
10 Work and Play 377
11 Messages 427
12 Law and Order 501
13 Consuming Desires 557
14 Body and Soul 603

Appendix: A Writer's Glossary 649
Photo Acknowledgments 659
Index 661
Detailed Contents

Rhetorical Contents xxv
Preface xxxi

1 A Writer Reads 1

Previewing 2
Skimming 3
J. H. Plumb The Dying Family 6
Highlighting, Underlining, Annotating 10
Summarizing 13
Critical Thinking: Analyzing the Text 14
Tone and Persona 16
Daniel Gilbert Does Fatherhood Make You Happy? 17
✓ A CHECKLIST: ANALYZING AND EVALUATING AN ESSAY 20

2 A Reader Writes 21

C. S. Lewis We Have No "Right to Happiness" 22
Responding to an Essay 26
The Writing Process 27
   Keeping a Journal 28
   Questioning the Text Again 29
   Summaries, Jottings, Outlines, and Lists 30
✓ A CHECKLIST: GETTING STARTED 32
Getting Ready to Write a Draft 32

vii
Draft of an Essay: On “We Have No ‘Right to Happiness’”  32
Revising and Editing a Draft  34
A Revised Draft: Persuasive Strategies in C. S. Lewis’s “We Have No ‘Right to Happiness’”  35
Rethinking the Thesis: Preliminary Notes  37
The Final Version: Style and Argument: An Examination of C. S. Lewis’s “We Have No ‘Right to Happiness’”  38
A Brief Overview of the Final Version  41
✓ A Checklist: Analyzing Your Analysis  42

3 Academic Writing  43

Kinds of Prose  44
A Note on Writing a Summary  45
More about Critical Thinking: Analysis and Evaluation  46
✓ A Checklist: Critical Thinking  50
Joining the Conversation: Writing about Differing Views  51
Writing about Essays Less Directly Related: A Student’s Notes and Journal Entries  52
The Student’s Final Version: Two Ways of Thinking about Today’s Families  54
Interviewing  57
Guidelines for Conducting the Interview and Writing the Essay  58
Topics for Writing  61
Using Quotations  61
Avoiding Plagiarism  63
Acknowledging Sources  63
Fair Use of Common Knowledge  66
“But How Else Can I Put It?”  67
✓ A Checklist: Avoiding Plagiarism  68
✓ A Checklist: Thirteen Questions to Ask Yourself When Editing  68
A Student’s Documented Essay  69
Jason Green  Did Dorothea Lange Pose Her Subject for Migrant Mother?  69
4 Writing an Argument 79

The Aims of an Argumentative Essay 81
Negotiating Agreements: The Approach of Carl R. Rogers 81
✓ A Checklist: Rogerian Argument 86
Some Ways of Arguing: Appeals to Reason and Appeals to Emotions 87
Appeals to Reason: Deduction and Induction 87
Appeals to Emotions 88
Three Kinds of Evidence: Examples, Testimony, Statistics 89
Examples 90
Testimony 91
Statistics 92
How Much Evidence Is Enough? 93
Avoiding Fallacies 93
Drafting an Argument 97
Imagining an Audience 97
Getting Started 97
Writing a Draft 98
Revising a Draft 98
Organizing an Argument 99
Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs 100
Introductory Paragraphs 100
Concluding Paragraphs 102
✓ A Checklist: Revising Paragraphs 103
Persona and Style 103
An Overview: An Examination of an Argument 105
Richard Rhodes Hollow Claims about Fantasy Violence 105
The Analysis Analyzed 107
Two Debates (Four Arguments) for Analysis 111
A Debate: Should Laptops Be Banned from the Classroom? 111
Andrew Goldstein (student) Keep Online Poker Out of the Classroom: Why Professors Should Ban Laptops 111
Elena Choy Laptops in the Classroom? No Problem 113
A Second Debate: Do Credit Companies Market Too Aggressively to Youths? 116
Detailed Contents

Travis B. Plunkett  Yes, Credit Companies Market Too Aggressively to Youths  116

Louis J. Freeh  No, Credit Companies Do Not Market Too Aggressively to Youths  118
✓ A CHECKLIST: REVISING DRAFTS OF ARGUMENTS  120

5  Reading and Writing about Pictures  121

The Language of Pictures  122
Writing about Art  123
Writing about an Advertisement  124
✓ A CHECKLIST: ANALYZING ADVERTISEMENTS  125
Writing about a Political Cartoon  126
✓ A CHECKLIST: ANALYZING POLITICAL CARTOONS  127

Lou Jacobs Jr. What Qualities Does a Good Photograph Have?  127
A little honest controversy about the visual success of a print or slide can be a healthy thing.

Sample Analyses of Pictures  132
A Sample Essay by a Student  132

Zoe Morales Dancing at Durango  132
A Sample Essay by an Art Historian  137

Thomas Hoving So, Does It Speak to You?  137
A museum director analyzes Gant Wood’s most famous painting, American Gothic

6  All in the Family  143

ILLUSTRATIONS
Pablo Picasso, 1905 The Acrobat’s Family with a Monkey  144
Joanne Leonard Sonia  145

SHORT VIEWS  146
Anonymous (William James?), Marcel Proust, Leo Tolstoy, Jessie Bernard, Jane Austen

Lewis Coser The Family  147
A sociologist defines the family and, in fewer than five hundred words, gives an idea of its variety.
Joan Didion  On Going Home  148
Is going home—is leaving home—possible?

Sam Schulman  Letting Go  151
“...parents impart values. But values come from other useful sources, too. Hovering parents undermine the influence not only of other institutions like schools and churches but of peers.”

Stephanie Coontz  The Heterosexual Revolution  154
Traditional marriage started unraveling 200 years ago.

Gabrielle Glaser  Scenes from an Intermarriage  156
The author of a book on interfaith marriage believes that although the future always looks bright, down the road someone usually loses.

Anonymous  Confessions of an Erstwhile Child  161
Should children have the legal right to escape impossible families? A victim argues that a closely bound family structure compounds craziness.

Arlie Hochschild  The Second Shift: Employed Women Are Putting in Another Day of Work at Home  166
There’s a “leisure gap” between men and women at home.

A Debate (Two Arguments) for Analysis  172
Andrew Sullivan versus William J. Bennett  172

Andrew Sullivan  Here Comes the Groom: A (Conservative) Case for Gay Marriage  172
“But gay marriage is not a radical step. It avoids the mess of domestic partnership; it is humane; it is conservative in the best sense of the word.”

William J. Bennett  Gay Marriage: Not a Very Good Idea  176
A conservative public servant—Bennett served under the first President Bush—concludes that “it is exceedingly imprudent to conduct a radical, untested and inherently flawed social experiment on an institution that is the keystone in the arch of civilization.”

Judy Brady  I Want a Wife  179
A wife looks at the services she performs and decides that she’d like a wife.

Black Elk  High Horse's Courting  182
An Oglala Sioux holy man tells us what a hard time, in the old days, a young man had getting the girl he wanted.
Celia E. Rothenberg  Child of Divorce  186
   An undergraduate reflects on the impact of divorce on her, her brother, and her parents.

Jamaica Kincaid  Girl (story)  192
   "Try to walk like a lady and not like the slut you are so bent on becoming."

Robert Hayden  Those Winter Sundays (poem)  193
   "No one ever thanked him."

7  Identities  195

ILLUSTRATIONS
   Dorothea Lange  Grandfather and Grandchildren Awaiting Evacuation Bus, Hayward, California  196
   Marion Post Wolcott  Behind the Bar, Birney, Montana  197

SHORT VIEWS  198
   Margaret Mead, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Simone de Beauvoir, Israel Zangwill, Vladimir I. Lenin, Joyce Carol Oates, Martin Luther King Jr., Shirley Chisholm

Rogelio R. Gomez  Foul Shots  200
   A Mexican-American remembers the shame he felt in the presence of Anglos.

Marianne J. Legato  The Weaker Sex  203
   When it comes to health, men are delicate creatures.

Zora Neale Hurston  How It Feels to Be Colored Me  205
   "At certain times I have no race, I am me."

Stephen Jay Gould  Women's Brains  209
   On the "irrelevant and highly injurious" biological labeling of women and other disadvantaged groups.

Katha Pollitt  Why Boys Don't Play with Dolls  215
   Social conditioning, not biology, is the answer, this author says.

Paul Theroux  The Male Myth  218
   "It is very hard to imagine any concept of manliness that does not belittle women."

Emily Tsao  Thoughts of an Oriental Girl  221
A sophomore questions the value of describing Asian Americans and other minorities as "people of color."

Gloria Naylor  A Question of Language  223

What does the word "nigger" mean?

Richard Rodriguez, with Scott London  A View from the Melting Pot  226

"In the LA of the future, no one will need say, 'Let's celebrate diversity.' Diversity is going to be a fundamental part of our lives."

Amy Tan  Snapshot: Lost Lives of Women  232

The writer examines "a picture of secrets and tragedies."

A Casebook on Race  236

Columbia Encyclopedia  Race  236

An encyclopedia defines race and distinguishes it from racism.

Armand Marie Leroi  A Family Tree in Every Gene  238

A biologist argues that "races are real."

David Fitch, Herbert J. Gans, Mary T. Bassett, Lynn M. Morgan, Martin E. Fuller, John Waldman  Letters Responding to Armand Marie Leroi  243

Sharon Begley  Three Is Not Enough  245

"Changing our thinking about race will require a revolution in thought as profound, and profoundly unsettling, as anything science has ever demanded."

Shelby Steele  Hailing While Black  251

"The real debate over racial profiling is not about stops and searches on the New Jersey Turnpike. It is about the degree of racism in America and the distribution of power it justifies."

Brent Staples  On Race and the Census: Struggling with Categories That No Longer Apply  253

The "one-drop rule" can't survive in a multiracial society.

Countee Cullen  Incident (poem)  256

A grown man remembers only one thing from his childhood visit to Baltimore.
8 Immigrant Nation 257

Illustrations
Christopher J. Morris  New U.S. Citizens at a Citizenship Ceremony, Pomona, California  258
Statue of Liberty, New York City  259

Short Views  260

Bharati Mukherjee  Two Ways to Belong in America  262
A native of India, now a long-time resident and citizen of the United States, compares her responses with those of her sister, also a resident here but not a citizen.

Anar Ali  The Person Behind the Muslim  265
A Muslim says she is willing to talk about terrorism but she wants to talk about it "as a citizen, not just a Muslim."

A Casebook on Recent Immigrants  267

Barry R. Chiswick  The Worker Next Door  267
An economist argues that our society does not need the cheap labor that many immigrants provide.

Jeff Jacoby  What If We Deport Them All?  270
A conservative columnist argues that we need immigrant workers who cross our borders and therefore "we’d all be better off if we let them cross it legally."

Victor Davis Hanson  Socrates on Illegal Immigration  272
A senior fellow at the Hoover Institution argues that Socrates’s behavior in the "Crito"—Socrates acceptance of the court’s sentence of death—should guide our actions concerning illegal immigration: We cannot pick and choose which laws we should obey.

Cardinal Roger Mahony  Called by God to Help  275
A cardinal in the Roman Catholic Church argues that "Denying aid to a fellow human being violates a law with a higher authority than Congress—the law of God."
A Casebook of Poems about Immigrants  277

Emma Lazarus  The New Colossus (poem)  277
A poet speaks the thoughts of the Statue of Liberty: “Give me your tired, your poor,/Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free.”

Pat Mora  Immigrants (poem)  278
The hopes of immigrant parents.

Dudley Randall  The Melting Pot (poem)  280
An African American poet wryly observes that immigrants from Europe step into the melting pot and are transformed but the descendants of black slaves are not allowed to step into the pot.

9 Teaching and Learning  283

ILLUSTRATIONS

Winslow Homer  Blackboard  284
Ron James  The Lesson—Planning a Career  285

SHORT Views  286

Francis Bacon, Paul Goodman, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, Emma Goldman, Jesse Jackson, Ralph Waldo Emerson, D. H. Lawrence, Prince Kropotkin, John Ruskin, Confucius, Joseph Wood Krutch, Phyllis Bottome

David Brooks  The Gender Gap at School  289
“Over the past two decades, there has been a steady accumulation of evidence that male and female brains work differently.”

A Debate (Two Arguments) for Analysis  291
A Debate: Do Video Games Significantly Enhance Literacy?  291

James Paul Gee  Pro  291
Howard Gardner  Con  293

Plato  The Myth of the Cave  294
A great teacher explains in a metaphor the progress of the mind from opinion to knowledge.

Richard Rodriguez  Public and Private Language  301
By age seven, Richard Rodriguez learns “the great lesson of school,” that he had a “public identity.”
Maya Angelou  Graduation  306
A dispiriting commencement address and a spontaneous reaction to it.

Neil Postman  Order in the Classroom  316
"School is not a radio station or a television program."

Sara Bennett and Nancy Kalish  No More Teachers, Lots of Books  323
Summer homework sets students back.

Suzy Maroon, Julia Collins, Elizabeth P. Ueland  Letters Responding to Sara Bennett and Nancy Kalish  325

Robert Coles  On Raising Moral Children  326
A psychiatrist discusses the ways in which adults shape children’s behavior.

Fan Shen  The Classroom and the Wider Culture  331
According to Fan Shen, who migrated from China to Nebraska, "To be truly 'myself,' which I knew was a key to my success in learning English composition, meant not to be my Chinese self at all."

David Gelernter  Unplugged  341
A professor of computer science offers a surprising comment: "The computer’s potential to do good is modestly greater than a book’s in some areas. Its potential to do harm is vastly greater, across the board."

Amy Tan  In the Canon, for All the Wrong Reasons  344
An Asian-American writer is not altogether comfortable now that her book is required reading.

Wu-tsu Fa-yen  Zen and the Art of Burglary (story)  348
A teacher tells a story to teach what otherwise cannot be taught.

A Casebook on What Colleges Should Teach  349

Stanley Fish  Why We Built the Ivory Tower  349
"The practices of responsible citizenship and moral behavior should be encouraged in young adults—but it’s not the business of the university to do so, except when the morality in question is the morality that penalizes cheating, plagiarizing, and shoddy teaching."

Rachel Milbauer  Coercive Thinking  352
A first-year student in a composition course explains why she objects to the instructor requiring her to write about topics that she finds morally offensive.
Dave Eggers  Serve or Fail  355

Colleges—except perhaps community colleges, whose students “have considerable family and work demands”—should require students to perform community service. “Perhaps every 25 hours of service could be traded for one class credit, with a maximum of three credits a year.”

Patrick Allitt  Should Undergraduates Specialize?  358

A graduate of the British system, where undergraduates specialize, thinks about his daughter’s liberal arts education in the United States.

Carol Geary Schneider and Ellis M. West  Letters Responding to Patrick Allitt  361

Caitlin Petre  The Lessons I Didn’t Learn in College  364

A college graduate finds that life’s real tests start when final exams end.

Langston Hughes  Theme for English B (poem)  366

Responding to the white instructor’s assignment to write something that is “true,” an African-American student writes, “It’s not easy to know what is true for you or me / at twenty-two, my age.”

A Casebook on Testing and Grading  368

Paul Goodman  A Proposal to Abolish Grading  368

“Grading hinders teaching and creates a bad spirit.”

Diane Ravitch  In Defense of Testing  371

“Tests and standards are a necessary fact of life.”

Joy Alonso  Two Cheers for Examinations  373

“After reading all of the essays I felt pretty good, I felt something of the satisfaction that I hope students felt after they finished writing their examinations.”

10  Work and Play  377

ILLUSTRATIONS

Dorothea Lange  Lettuce Cutters, Salinas Valley  378
Helen Levitt  Children  379

SHORT VIEWS  380

Mark Twain, Duke of Wellington, Barbara Ehrenreich, Smohalla, Lost Star, John Ruskin, Vince Lombardi,
Bertrand Russell  Work  382
A philosopher examines the connections between work and happiness.

Mike Rose  Brains as Well as Brawn  387
In an essay published on Labor Day, a professor talks about “the intelligence of the laborer—the thought, the creativity, the craft it takes to do work, any work, well.”

Gloria Steinem  The Importance of Work  389
Both men and women have the “human right” to a job. “But women have more cause to fight for it,” and have better reasons than “weworkbecausewehaveto.”

Felice N. Schwartz  The “Mommy Track” Isn’t Anti-Woman  394
A debate on what employees can do to help parents balance careers and family responsibilities.

Pat Schroeder, Lois Brenner, Hope Dellon, Anita M. Harris, Peg McAulay Byrd  Letters Responding to Felice N. Schwartz  396

Virginia Woolf  Professions for Women  401
Women must confront two obstacles on entering new professions.

Henry Louis Gates Jr.  Delusions of Grandeur  405
How many African-American athletes are at work today? Henry Louis Gates Jr. tells us that “an African-American youngster has about as much chance of becoming a professional athlete as he or she does of winning the lottery.”

Marie Winn  The End of Play  408
Childhood, once a time of play, today is increasingly “purposeful, success-oriented, competitive.” What are the causes of this change? And what are the consequences of “the end of childhood”?

W. H. Auden  The Unknown Citizen (poem)  415
“Was he free, was he happy? The question is absurd.”

A Casebook on Poker  416

Jeremy Marks  The Power of Poker  416
A first-year student explains how poker has helped him as a student.

Lauren Patrizi  My College Addiction  419
"The appropriate corrective for online gambling addiction is up for debate."

Chris Berger  Gen Y: The Poker Generation  423

An undergraduate speaks: "I plan on getting good grades and going to grad school, but for right now I'm going all in on my Jack, nine suited."

Messages  427

ILLUSTRATIONS

Jill Posener  Born Kicking, Graffiti on Billboard, London  428
Anonymous  Sapolio  429

SHORT VIEWS  430

Voltaire, Marianne Moore, Derek Walcott, Jane Wagner, Emily Dickinson, Howard Nemerov, Wendell Berry, Anonymous, Rosalie Maggio, Benjamin Cardozo, Gary Snyder, Alan Jacobs, Ann Beattie

Abraham Lincoln  Address at the Dedication of the Gettysburg National Cemetery  432

A two-minute speech that shows signs of enduring.

Gilbert Highet  The Gettysburg Address  433

A classicist analyzes a speech that we may think we already know well.

Elizabeth Cady Stanton  Declaration of Sentiments and Resolutions  439

The women at the 1848 Seneca Falls Convention adopt a new declaration, accusing men of failures and crimes parallel to those that led Jefferson in 1776 to denounce King George III.

Robin Lakoff  You Are What You Say  443

A linguistic double standard turns women into "communicative cripples—damned if we do, and damned if we don't."

Barbara Lawrence  Four-Letter Words Can Hurt You  449

The best-known obscene words are sadistic and dehumanizing—and their object is almost always female.

Edward T. Hall  Proxemics in the Arab World  452

Why Americans and Arabs find each other pushy, rude, or simply incomprehensible.
Deborah Tannen The Workings of Conversational Style 459
 "Our talk is saying something about our relationship."

James B. Twitchell The Marlboro Man: The Perfect Campaign 471
 How a dangerous legal product was successfully marketed.

Eric Schlosser Kid Kustomers 479
 How companies get kids to get parents to buy products.

Stevie Smith Not Waving but Drowning (poem) 485
 What a dead man was trying to say all his life.

A Casebook on Virtual Worlds 486

Brent Staples What Adolescents Miss When We Let Them Grow Up in Cyberspace 486
 Life lessons don’t come in a virtual form.

Jeremy Rifkin Virtual Companionship 488
 Computers that imitate emotion only make us lonelier.

Kay S. Hymowitz Big Mother Is Watching 491
 Parents who use surveillance devices to monitor kids are not doing them any favors.

George F. Will You Bloggin’ to Me? 494
 For the self-absorbed, their Time has arrived.

Bob Nixon Please Don’t E-Mail Me about This Article 496
 E-mail is a great convenience but “I just need periods in my life when it is less relentless and less convenient.”

12 Law and Order 501

ILLUSTRATIONS

Bernie Boston Flower Power 502

Norman Rockwell The Problem We All Live With 503

SHORT VIEWS 504

Thomas Jefferson The Declaration of Independence 506
 "We hold these truths to be self-evident.”
Martin Luther King Jr.  Nonviolent Resistance  510

"Violence as a way of achieving racial justice is both impractical and immoral."

Martin Luther King Jr.  Letter from Birmingham Jail  515

An imprisoned civil rights leader argues that victims of unjust laws have the right to break those laws as long as they use nonviolent tactics.

Cathy Booth Thomas  A New Scarlet Letter  529

A Texas judge forces sex offenders to broadcast their crimes with house signs and bumper stickers.

Chesa Boudin  Making Time Count  532

A young man whose parents have been in prison since he was an infant talks about what was done and might be done to assist such families to maintain healthy relationships.

Derek Bok  Protecting Freedom of Expression on the Campus  538

A university president engages with "the problem of trying to reconcile the rights of free speech with the desire to avoid racial tension."

George Orwell  Shooting an Elephant  540

As a young British police officer in Burma, Orwell learns the true nature of imperialism.

John (?)  The Woman Taken in Adultery  547

"He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her."

A Casebook on Torture  548

Michael Levin  The Case for Torture  548

"I am not advocating torture as punishment. . . . I am advocating torture as an acceptable measure for preventing future evils."

Philip B. Heymann  Torture Should Not Be Authorized  551

"Torture is a prescription for losing a war for support of our beliefs in the hope of reducing the casualties."

Alan M. Dershowitz  Yes, It Should Be "On the Books"  553

A professor of law argues that under certain exceptional circumstances—when there is "a ticking bomb"—the appropriate authority should issue a warrant authorizing torture if it may save hundreds of lives.
13 Consuming Desires 557

ILLUSTRATIONS

Grant Wood  American Gothic  558
Richard Hamilton  Just what is it that makes today's homes so different, so appealing?  559

SHORT VIEWS  560

Chinese Proverb, Hebrew Bible, William Blake, Marcel Duchamp, Anonymous, George Bernard Shaw, G. C. Lichtenberg, Diane White, Anonymous, Alison Lurie, Rudi Gernreich, Kenneth Clark, Le Corbusier, Ralph Waldo Emerson

Michael Ableman  Feeding Our Future  562
“How difficult would it be to replace nachos with real corn on the cob?”

David Gerard Hogan  Fast Food  565
Despite criticism, “fast food continues its rapid international growth.”

Janna Malamud Smith  My Son, My Compass  568
A mother reports how unsettling it was to “take moral direction” from a son who had become a vegan. “Not only was I being called upon to loosen my protective grip on my charge, I needed to reconsider my position in the universe.”

Jacob Alexander  Nitrite: Preservative or Carcinogen?  571
An undergraduate’s research paper provides food for thought.

Donna Maurer  Vegetarianism  581
A historian offers reflections on what sorts of people are vegetarians, and why.

Paul Goldberger  Quick! Before It Crumbles!  584
An architecture critic looks at cookie architecture.

Peter Singer and Jim Mason  Wal-Mart: Everyday Low Prices—At What Cost?  587
A philosopher and a farmer raise some questions.

Sheldon Richman  The Chutzpah of Wal-Mart’s Critics  592
An indignant response to the indignant critics of Wal-Mart
Jonathan Swift  A Modest Proposal  594
An eighteenth-century Irish satirist tells his countrymen how they may make children “sound, useful members of the commonwealth.”

James Wright  Lying in a Hammock at William Duffy’s Farm in Pine Island, Minnesota (poem)  601
A poet looks around, and comes to a surprising conclusion.

14  Body and Soul  603

ILLUSTRATIONS
Henri Cartier-Bresson  Place de l’Europe, Paris, 1932  604
Ken Gray  Lifted Lotus  605

SHORT VIEWS  606
W. B. Yeats, Napoleon, Walt Whitman, Woody Allen,
Epictetus, D. H. Lawrence, John Locke, Virginia Woolf,
Emily Dickinson, Plato, Samuel Johnson, Frederick
Douglass, Ray Charles, Friedrich Nietzsche, Oscar Wilde,
Nigerian Proverb, Jesus

Anonymous  Muddy Road (story)  608
A Zen anecdote about body and mind.

Henry David Thoreau  Economy  608
“The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation.”

Natalie Angier  The Sandbox: Bully for You—Why Push Comes to Shove  620
“It’s hard to see how bullying behavior in schools can be eliminated when bullying behavior among adults is not only common but often applauded—at least if it results in wild success.”

Robert Santos  My Men  625
A veteran of the Vietnam War recalls hunger, killings, and rape: “It was so horrifying. I tried to think of what I would be like if this took place in my hometown. This may have been a turning point in my life.”

Plato  Crito  630
Socrates helps Crito to see that “we ought not to render evil for evil.”
Detailed Contents

T. S. Eliot  The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock  642

"In a minute there is time / For decisions and revisions which a minute will reverse."

Appendix: A Writer's Glossary  649

Photo Acknowledgments  659

Index  661