

The Catholic Church and Unruly Women Writers

Critical Essays

Edited by

Jeana DelRosso, Leigh Eicke,
and Ana Kothe

palgrave
macmillan

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction
Unruly Catholic Women Writers through the Centuries	1
Jeana DelRosso, Leigh Eicke, and Ana Kothe
Part 1 Medieval through Seventeenth Century
Chapter One
Female as Flesh in the Later Middle Ages and the “Bodily Knowing” of Angela of Foligno	9
Jennifer Judge
Chapter Two
“I Grab the Microphone and Move My Body”—Volatile Speech, Volatile Bodies, and the Church’s Attempt to Measure Holiness	25
M. C. Bodden
Chapter Three
Letters from the Convent: St. Teresa of Ávila’s Epistolary Mode	41
Joan F. Cammarata
Chapter Four
Talking out of Church: Women Arguing Theology in Sor Juana’s loa to the Divino Narciso	55
Jeanne Gillespie

Chapter Five
Angela Carranza, Would-Be Theologian	69
Stacey Schlau

Chapter Six
Resituating Carvajal's Vida in Protonovelistic Narratives	87
Ana Kothe

Part 2 Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries

Chapter Seven
Through the Grate; Or, English Convents and the Transmission and Preservation of Female Catholic Recusant History	105
Tonya Moutray McArthur

Chapter Eight
"Must Her Own Words Do All?": Domesticity, Catholicism, and Activism in Adelaide
Anne Procter's Poems	123
Cheri Larsen Hoeckley

Chapter Nine
The Legacy of Laveau in the Practice of Helen Prejean: The Tradition and Territory of New Orleans'
Spiritual Advisors	139
Barbara Eckstein

Part 3 Twentieth and Twenty-first Centuries

Chapter Ten
"Reluctant Catholics": Contemporary Irish-American Women Writers	159
Sally Barr Ebest

Chapter Eleven
Marie-Claire Blais Revises John Keats: Sadean Moments and Anti-Catholic Sentiment in
Une saison dans la vie d'Emmanuel	175
Ben P. Robertson

CONTENTS

ix

Chapter Twelve

Catholicism's Other(ed) Holy Trinity: Race, Class,
and Gender in Black Catholic Girl School Narratives

191

Jeana DelRosso

Chapter Thirteen

Challenging Catholicism: Hagar vs. the Virgin
in Graciela Limón's The Memories of Ana Calderón

207

Mary Jane Suero-Elliott

Chapter Fourteen

Dis-robing the Priest: Gender and Spiritual
Conversions in Louise Erdrich's The Last Report on the Miracles at Little No Horse

221

Pamela J. Rader

Notes on Contributors

237

Index

241