Redefining Christian Britain: Post-1945 Perspectives

Edited by Jane Garnett
Matthew Grimley
Alana Harris
William Whyte
Sarah Williams

scm press
Contents

Acknowledgements ix
About the Contributors xi
Introduction 1

Part I Authenticity 19

1 Experience 21

Case Studies
  Alana Harris
- Expressions of Authenticity: Music for Worship 50
  Ian Jones with Peter Webster
- Reconceiving the Congregation as a Source of Authenticity 63
  Mathew Guest

2 Performance 73

Case Studies
- Performance, Priesthood, and Homosexuality 84
  William Whyte
- Theology in the Public Arena: The Case of South Bank Religion 92
  Mark D. Chapman
- A Papal Funeral and a Royal Wedding: Reconfiguring Religion in the Twenty-First Century 106
  Grace Davie
Part II  Generation

3 Transmission and Transformation

Case Studies
  William Whyte
  Holger Nehring
- Internet Generation: Computer-Mediated Communication and Christianity
  Jane Garnett

4 Language

Case Studies
- Art and Religion in Contemporary Britain
  George Pattison
- Dark Materials? Philip Pullman and Children’s Literature
  Bernice Martin
- The Architecture of Belief
  William Whyte

Part III  Virtue

5 The Good Life

Case Studies
- Ambivalence over Virtue
  Harriet Harris
- Is English Education Secular?
  Ashley Rogers Berner
- Christianity and Economics: The Conversation in Zacchaeus’ House
  Rufus Black

vi
6 The Common Good 242

Case Studies
- Liberalism, Religion and the Public Sphere 254
  Raymond Plant
- Public Intellectuals and the Media 267
  Matthew Grimley
- The Evolution of National and Religious Identity in Contemporary Ireland 278
  Robert Tobin

Conclusion: Christian Britain Reconsidered 289
Select Bibliography 294
Index of Names and Subjects 299