DRAMA AND THE POSTMODERN

Assessing the Limits of Metatheatre

Edited by Daniel K. Jernigan

CAMBRIA PRESS
AMHERST, NEW YORK
Table of Contents

Acknowledgments  xi

Beginnings: Postmodern Tipping Points
by Daniel K. Jernigan  1

Chapter 1: Spatial Ambiguity and the Early Modern/Postmodern in *King Lear
by Jenn Stephenson  23

Chapter 2: Metadrama, Authority, and the Roots of Incredulity
by Bill Angus  45

Chapter 3: Parody, Metatheatre, and the Postmodern Turn: A Secret History of Irish Drama
by Eugene McNulty  61

Chapter 4: Lost in the Dark: Performing the Postmodern Moment in Eugene O’Neill’s *The Emperor Jones
by Lance Norman  85

Chapter 5: Landscapes of Metatheatre: Gertrude Stein’s Anticipation of the Postmodern
by Teresa Requena Pelegri  109
Chapter 6: "Nayman" No More: Reconsidering Samuel Beckett
   by Matthew Paproth 133

Chapter 7: Tom Stoppard's Regressive Postmodernity: Tracking the Major Plays, From Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead to Indian Ink
   by Daniel K. Jernigan 157

Chapter 8: Elfriede Jelinek: Staging a Heideggerian Postmodern Debate in Totenauberg
   by Christine Kiebuzinska 183

Chapter 9: Staging the Audience: Peter Weiss' The Investigation
   by Scott Windham 207

Chapter 10: Top Girls: Postmodern Imperfect
   by Prapassaree Thawutipong Kramer 231

Chapter 11: "Pessimism of the Intellect-Optimism of the Will": Tony Kushner's Postmodern Aesthetic
   by James Fisher 255

Chapter 12: Postmodern Ethics in Mark Ravenhill's Some Explicit Polaroids
   by Leslie A. Wade 283
Table of Contents

Chapter 13: The Rise and Fall of the Lad: Joe Penhall's Early Plays
by William C. Boles 307

Chapter 14: Utopia in absentia: Staging Possibilities in Kirk Lynn's WAR
by Margaret F. Savilonis 327

Chapter 15: Beckett and the Stage Image: Toward a Poetics of Postmodern Performance by Neil Murphy 351

List of Contributors 371

Index 375