Contents

Acknowledgements • 11
Introduction • 13

Janet Hamilton
Introduction • 47
A Plea for the Doric • 62
A Wheen Aul’ Memories • 63
The Feast of the “Mutches” • 69
Oor Location • 70
Rhymes for the Times II • 72
Rhymes for the Times IV • 75
Rhymes for the Times V • 75
Grannie Visited at Blackhill, Shotts, July, 1805 • 77
Auld Mither Scotland • 79
Grannie’s Crack About the Famine in Auld Scotlan’, 1739-40 • 81
Grannie’s Dream—A True Incident • 84
Effie—A Ballad • 87
Preface to Poems, Essays and Sketches • 89
Preface to Memorial Edition, James Hamilton • 92
Janet Hamilton at her “Ain Fireside,” Alexander Wallace • 93
Janet Hamilton on the Education of Women • 101
Scottish Peasant Life and Character in Days of Auld Langsyne • 103
Sketch of a Scottish Out-door Communion Sabbath in Times Gone By • 105
Local Changes • 106
Sketch of a Scottish Village • 109
From The Mental and Moral Dignity of Woman, by the Rev. Benjamin Parsons • 110

The Rural Poets

Anonymous Celtic Songs Collected by Alexander Carmichael
Introduction • 111
Peace • 113
The Apple Tree • 113
New Moon • 115
My Father and Mother Will Kill Me • 115

Isabella Chisholm
Introduction • 116
The Wicked Who Would Do Me Harm • 117
Exorcism of the Eye • 118
Counteracting the Evil Eye • 119

Elizabeth Duncan Campbell
Introduction • 120
The Death of Willie, My Second Son • 126
A Prison Cell • 127
The Crimean War • 128
The Summer Night • 131
The Mother’s Lament • 133
The Life of My Childhood • 135
Mrs. Campbell: A Criticism, by George Gilfillan • 141

Jane Stevenson
   Introduction • 146
   Home • 148
   The Wandering Dog • 150
   The Fairy Dale • 151
   The Prophetess, Or Seer of Visions • 151
   Preface from Homely Musings • 156

Elizabeth Horne Smith
   Introduction • 157
   The Armenian Atrocities • 159
   A Midnight Meeting with the Ghost of Burns, July, 1896 • 161
   My Friend • 164
   Lines to J—— B——, Dunfermline • 165
   “In the Foremost Files. Elizabeth Horne Smith, Farmworker and Poetess,” by the Rev. P[aul] Anton • 166

Mary MacDonald MacPherson
   Introduction • 171
   Incitement of the Gaels • 178
   Farewell to the New Christmas • 181
   A Prose Translation: “Ivory and the Crofters,” Donald Meek • 184

The Factory Poets

“Marie”
   Introduction • 185
   The Indomitable Will • 188
   Posted Books • 189
   Sibyl, the Far-Seer • 190
   An Autumn Evening, People's and Howitt's Journal, 1849 • 192

Ellen Johnston
   Introduction • 195
   Lines to Isabel from the Factory Girl • 204
   The Factory Girl’s Reply to Edith • 206
   The Last Sark • 208
   The Maid of Dundee to Her Slumbering Muse • 209
   The Last Lay of “The Factory Girl” • 211
   Selections from the “Autobiography of Ellen Johnston” • 213
Ruth Wills
Introduction • 219
A Lament • 224
The Seen and the Unseen • 227
Koziell • 228
Zenobia • 230
“The Factory Poetess,” from The Working Man • 231
Application to the Royal Literary Fund, 1863 • 234
Last Will and Testament of Ruth Wills • 236

Fanny Forrester
Introduction • 237
Dying in the City • 243
The Lowly Bard • 245
The Bitter Task • 247
To “Sabina” • 249
Application to the Royal Literary Fund from Mrs. Ellen Forrester • 251
“Fanny Forrester,” Ben Brierley’s Journal, 1875 • 252

Ethel Carnie
Introduction • 252
A Marching Tune • 259
Faith • 260
An Old Woman’s Hands • 260
A Washerwoman • 261
Shame • 262
A Lament • 262
A Riding Song • 263
“A Lancashire Fairy. An Interview with Miss Ethel Carnie” • 264
“Paddling your Own Canoe,” Miss Nobody • 267
“Modern Womanhood,” The Woman Worker, 1909 • 274
Letter from Ethel Carnie to Graham Wallas • 277

Lyricists and Feminists

Eliza Cook
Introduction • 279
Song of the City Artisan • 283
The Streets • 284
A Song: To “The People” of England • 286
They All Belong to Me • 288
Song of the Red Man • 290
Lines Suggested by the Song of a Nightingale • 292
To the Late William Jerdan • 293
“Advice to the Ladies,” from Eliza Cook’s Journal, 1850 • 294
Letter from Eliza Cook, 1838 • 296
Letter from Eliza Cook, 1864 • 297
Mary Smith
Introduction • 298
"Women's Claims" • 303
Our Village • 304
Life Similes • 306
The Snow Storm • 307
My Mother-Sister • 308
Selections from "Progress" • 310
Selections from The Autobiography of Mary Smith • 315

Jessie Russell
Introduction • 320
Preface to The Blinkin' O' the Fire • 321
The Blinkin' O' the Fire • 323
Women's Rights vs. Woman's Wrongs • 324
The Mother's Story • 325
Oor Flittin' • 326

Jeannie Graham Paterson
Introduction • 327
A Brighter Dawn • 329
Speak the Words • 330
Class Distinction • 331
A Song of Liberty • 332
A Freen'ly Crack • 333
To One Who Believes that Women are Soulless • 335

Marion Bernstein
Introduction • 337
Mirren's Autobiography • 340
Wanted in Glasgow • 342
Come Back to Me, Ye Happy Dreams • 343
Manly Sports • 343
Wanted a Husband • 344
A Dream • 344
Application to the Royal Literary Fund, 1904 • 346

Bibliography
1. General Works • 349
2. Some Little-Educated or Working-Class Victorian Women Poets Who Published Books Not Included in this Anthology • 350
3. Comprehensive Bibliography • 351
4. Periodicals • 356

Index of Titles • 357
Index of First Lines • 361