Southern Postcolonialisms

The Global South and the 'New' Literary Representations

Editor
Sumanyu Satpathy
Contents

Foreword Rajeswari Sunder Rajan vii
Acknowledgements xv
Introduction Sumanyu Satpathy xvii

Canons of the New

1. A Balance of Stories: The Making of a Discipline 3
   Sue Thomas

2. English in an Uneven Land, English in an Uneven World:
   Literature in English Translation 17
   Meenakshi Mukherjee

3. The Tiger that Pounced: The African Writers Series
   (1962–2003) and the Online Reader 30
   Robert Fraser

4. Indian Ocean Testimonies: Narrative and Governmentality between South Africa and India 49
   Isabel Hofmeyr

5. Rushdie’s Indian Literature and Ours 64
   Sumanyu Satpathy

6. O. V. Vijayan — The Echo of the Cupola
   (Literatures—New Literatures) 77
   Divya Dwivedi

Pedagogies from the Postcolony

7. The New English Language Literatures and the Globalization of Tertiary Education 97
   Dieter Riemenschneider
Southern Postcolonialisms

8. Getting In and Out of the Dark Room: Canadian Texts as Neutral Ground for Self-Expression and Empathy in Conflicts
   Danielle Schaub
   p. 111

9. Pedagogy of Indian Partition Literature in the Light of Trauma Theory
   Beerendra Pandey
   p. 124

10. Decolonizing the Classroom: In Search of 'New' Pedagogies for 'New' Literatures?
    Brinda Bose, Vaibhav I. Parel, and Akhil Katyal
    p. 139

Gendered Citizenships in Transnational Times

11. Policing Literature, Disciplining Taslima: State Censorship in Postcolonial Bangladesh
    Manmay Zafar
    p. 155

12. Bread, Blood, and Bones: Democratic Socialism and Jamaican Drama
    Kanika Batra
    p. 184

13. Between Two Worlds: A Narrative of the Split Self
    Kay Torney Souter
    p. 196

    Carol Merli
    p. 205

---

Bibliography

List of Contributors

Index