Contents

Editor's Note vii

Introduction 1
Harold Bloom

The Hetairas (Maggie, Myrtle, Blanche) 7
Gulshan Rai Kataria

There Are Lives that Desire Does Not Sustain: A Streetcar Named Desire 35
Calvin Bedient

Domestic Violence in A Streetcar Named Desire 49
Susan Koprince

Blanche DuBois and the Kindness of Endings 61
George Toles

"It's Only a Paper Moon": The Paper Ontologies in Tennessee Williams's A Streetcar Named Desire 83
Philip C. Kolin

Misrepresentation and Miscegenation: Reading the Racialized Discourse of Tennessee Williams's A Streetcar Named Desire 99
George W. Crandell

Scene 11 of A Streetcar Named Desire 111
Bert Cardullo
Contents

Wagnerian Architectonics: The Plastic Language of Tennessee Williams's
A Streetcar Named Desire 117
John S. Bak

Darkness Made Visible: Miscegenation, Masquerade and the Signified
Racial Other in Tennessee Williams' Baby Doll and A Streetcar Named Desire 133
Rachel Van Duyvenbode

A Room Which Isn't Empty:
A Streetcar Named Desire and the Question of Homophobia 145
Michael Paller

Chronology 163
Contributors 167
Bibliography 169
Acknowledgments 173
Index 175