Contents

Acknowledgements ix
List of Illustrations xi

CAROLINE PATEY AND LAURA SCURIATTI
Introduction 1

PART I Wrestling with Taxonomy

BÉATRICE LAURENT
The Curiosity Cabinet: Exhibition(ism) in De Quincey's Confessions of an English Opium-Eater 11

FRANCESCA CUOJATI
John Clare: The Poetics and Politics of Taxonomy 29

FRANCESCA MUSCAU
Reconsidering George Eliot's Museum: An Inquiry into the Artificiality of Romola 49

PART II Houses of Narrative

JOSHUA KOTZIN
'Again in the Museum Mood': Remembering the Museum in Henry James's The Ambassadors 69

CAROLINE PATEY
Chapters Hanging on the Wall: Henry James in the Art Gallery 85
LAURA SCURIATTI
The Collection as Autobiography, the Autobiography as Collection: Mario Praz's House of Life 105

PART III  Modernism and its Discontents

LAURA PELASCHIAR
Joyce the Museologist: 'Oxen of the Sun' as Joyce's Museum of Language 127

WILL NORMAN
Unpacking Nabokov's Library: Historical Materialism and the Private Collection 143

MARIACRISTINA CAVECCHI
From Playwriting to Curatorship: An Investigation into the Status of Beckett's Stage Objects 161

ELIZABETH C. DENLINGER
The Collector in the Collection: Kenneth Lohf's War Poetry at Home and at the Morgan 183

PART IV  Back to Victorian Museums, with a Vengeance

ROBERTA GEFTER WONDРИCH
Possessing Papers: The Quest for the Writer's Relics from Henry James to A.S. Byatt 197

CARMEN LARA-RALLO
Museums, Collection and Cabinets: 'Shelf after Shelf after Shelf' 219
MARIADELE BOCCARDI

Exploding Taxonomy, Exhibiting Textuality:
J.G. Farrell’s The Siege of Krishnapur

Notes on Contributors
Index of Names
Index of Collections and Museological Institutions
Illustrations