Political Warfare against the Kremlin

US and British Propaganda Policy at the Beginning of the Cold War

Lowell H. Schwartz
RAND Corporation
Contents

Acknowledgments  vii
Abbreviations  viii
Introduction  1
1 The Genesis of Britain's Anti-Communist Propaganda Policy  19
2 The Initial Years of the Information Research Department: The Organization and Strategy of Britain's Political Warfare Effort  47
3 The BBC Russia Service: Britain's White Propaganda Station (1946-53)  70
4 American Cold War Propaganda Policy during the Truman Administration  96
5 The Early Years of Radio Liberty, 1953-60  124
6 American Cold War Propaganda Efforts during the First Eisenhower Administration  148
7 Cultural Infiltration: A New Propaganda Strategy for a New Era of Soviet-West Relations  181
Afterword: The Role of Propaganda in the Cold War and Its Implications Today  209
Appendix: Chronology of Propaganda Institutions and Wider Cold War Developments  221
Notes  225
Bibliography  262
Index  274