Lesbian Dames
Sapphism in the Long Eighteenth Century

Edited by

JOHN C. BEYNON
California State University, Fresno, USA

CAROLINE GONDA
St. Catharine's College, Cambridge, UK

ASHGATE
Contents

Notes on Contributors vii
Acknowledgements ix

Introduction 1
Caroline Gonda and John C. Beynon

1 ‘Friendship So Curst’: Amor Impossibilis, the Homoerotic Lament and the Nature of Lesbian Desire 9
Valerie Traub

2 A Crisis of Femininity: Re-Making Gender in Popular Discourse 45
Sally O’Driscoll

3 Pornographic Homophobia: L’Academie des dames and the Deconstructing Lesbian 61
David Robinson

4 Unaccountable Women 81
John C. Beynon

5 Reforming the Coquette: Poly, Homo, Hetero in The Reform’d Coquet and The History of Miss Betsy Thoughtless 95
Theresa Braunschneider

6 The Odd Women: Charlotte Charke, Sarah Scott and the Metamorphoses of Sex 111
Caroline Gonda

7 ‘Random Shafts of Malice?’: The Outings of Anne Damer 127
Emma Donoghue

8 Women Beware Women: Female Gothic Villains and Victims 147
George E. Haggerty
‘Do you not know the quotation?’:
Reading Anne Lister, Anne Lister Reading
Stephen Colclough

Tory Lesbians: Economies of Intimacy and the Status of Desire
Susan S. Lanser

Bibliography
Index