Table of Contents

Ansgar Nünnning & Vera Nünnning
Ways of Worldmaking in Literature and Other Media: Theoretical Reconceptualizations and Constructivist Criticism

I. The Politics of Worldmaking

Francesco Pitassio
Making the Nation Come Real
Neorealism / Nation: A Suitable Case for Treatment

Erik Granly Jensen
“Communist Signals”: Broadcasting and Sci-Fi Worlds in Walter Benjamin

Anette Storli Andersen
Theatrical Worldmaking: How the Norwegian Constitution was Prepared within the Theatre

Enrico Lodi
A World of Violence: Representations of the Spanish Civil War

II. Worldmaking in Literature

Heide Reinhäckel
Weaving the Infinite Tissue: Poetics of Textuality in W. G. Sebald’s The Emigrants and The Rings of Saturn

Irina Bauder
“Your Writers have instituted a World of their own”: Possible Worlds in Eighteenth-Century Romance and Charlotte Lennox’s The Female Quixote (1752)

Stefanie Schaefer
Birth by Narrative: Narrative Self-Making in Autobiographical Fiction
ALEXANDER BAREIS
Science Fiction vs. Fiction Science: On the ‘Principle of Genre Convention’ as an Exploration Rule for Fictional Worlds 119

MIKKEL ASTRUP
Literary Desires of Samuel Beckett’s Worldmaking 131

III. WORLDMAKING IN OTHER MEDIA: MUSIC, COMPUTER GAMES, AND INSTITUTIONS

MARTIN LÜTHE
“If I Could Build My Whole World Around You”: How Motown ‘Made’ the Sixties 145

RUDOLPH GLITZ
Making Worlds Historical: The Political Aesthetics of Sid Meier’s Civilization Series 161

ANNA SEIDERER
The Postcolonial Museum as a Way of Worldmaking 181