Wordsworth and Coleridge
Promising Losses

Peter Larkin
CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgments ix
Abbreviations xi

Introduction 1

Part I  Wordsworth

1 Wordsworth's "After-Sojourn": Revision and Unself-Rivalry in the Later Poetry 11
2 The Secondary Wordsworth's First of Homes: Home at Grasmere 33
3 Wordsworth's Cloud of Texture 49
4 Lyrical Ballads: Wordsworth’s Book of Questions 63
5 Relations of Scarcity: Ecology and Eschatology in The Ruined Cottage 77
6 Scarcity by Gift: Horizons of the "Lucy" Poems 93
7 Scarcely on the Way: The Starkness of Things in Sacral Space 107
8 Wordsworth's Maculate Exception: Achieving the "Spots of Time" 119

Part II  Coleridge

9 Imagining Naming Shaping: Stanza VI of "Dejection: An Ode" 135
10 "Fears in Solitude": Reading (from) the Dell 149
11 “I mourn to thee”: Dedication and Insufficiency in "Constancy to an Ideal Object" 157
CONTENTS

12 "Frost at Midnight": Some Coleridgean Intertwinings 167
13 Coleridge Conversing: Between Soliloquy and Invocation 183
14 Repetition, Difference, and Liturgical Participation in Coleridge's "The Ancient Mariner" 193
15 Voice, Judgment, and the Innocence of Self in Coleridge 205
16 Brushwood by Inflection, 2 215

Notes 221
Index 255