Contents

List of Illustrations  xi
Series Editor’s Foreword  xiii
Acknowledgements  xv

Introduction  Children’s Literature and Colonial India  1

Chapter 1  (En)countering Conversion: Missionary Debates and Colonial Policy in Mary Sherwood’s The History of Little Henry and His Bearer  15

Chapter 2  Resisting Tipu: Taming the Tiger and Coming of Age in Barbara Hofland’s The Captives in India  47

Chapter 3  The Post-Mutiny Imperial Boy Hero: Bridging Cultural Divides in Sara Jeanette Duncan’s The Story of Sonny Sahib  79

Chapter 4  ‘Macaulay’s minutemen’: The Mimic Men and the Subversion of Law in Rudyard Kipling’s The Jungle Books  107

Chapter 5  Trivializing Empire: The Topsy-Turvy World of Upendrakishore Ray and Sukumar Ray  135

Conclusion  The Postcolonial Legacy  169

Notes  173
Works Cited  183
Index  191