Worship and the Parish Church in Early Modern Britain

Edited by

NATALIE MEARS
Durham University, UK

ALEC RYRIE
Durham University, UK

ASHGATE
Contents

List of Figures vii
Abbreviations ix
List of Contributors xi

Introduction: Worship and the Parish Church 1
Natalie Mears and Alec Ryrie

1 Teaching in Praying Words? Worship and Theology in the Early Modern English Parish 11
Hannah Cleugh

2 Special Nationwide Worship and the Book of Common Prayer in England, Wales and Ireland, 1533–1642 31
Natalie Mears

3 The Elizabethan Primers: Symptoms of an Ambiguous Settlement or Devotional Weaning? 73
Bryan D. Spinks

4 The Fall and Rise of Fasting in the British Reformations 89
Alec Ryrie

5 Music Reconciled to Preaching: A Jacobean Moment? 109
Peter McCullough

6 Protestant Worship and the Discourse of Music in Reformation England 131
Jonathan Willis

7 ‘At it ding dong’: Recreation and Religion in the English Belfry, 1580–1640 151
Christopher Marsh

8 Bodies at Prayer in Early Modern England 173
John Craig
9 'Wise as serpents': The Form and Setting of Public Worship at Little Gidding in the 1630s
   Trevor Cooper 197

10 'Extravagencies and Impertinencies': Set Forms, Conceived and Extempore Prayer in Revolutionary England
   Judith Maltby 221

Index 245