Contemporary Woolf
Woolf contemporaine

Edited by
Claire Davison-Pégon & Anne-Marie Smith-Di Biasio

PRESSES UNIVERSITAIRES DE LA MÉDITERRANÉE
Contents

Claire Davison-Pégon & Anne-Marie Smith-Di Biasio
Introduction 9

Laura Marcus
Virginia Woolf and the Art of the Novel 15

Noriko Kubota
The Japan-British Exhibition of 1910 and Virginia Woolf 33

Kathryn Simpson
‘Shop windows blazing; and women gazing’: Woolf, Commodity Culture and the Gift Economy 43

Claire Rose
“We want what is timeless and contemporary”, poétique du poème selon Virginia Woolf 53

Nathalie Pavec
“The Platform of time”: l’écriture inactuelle de Virginia Woolf 73

Naomi Toth
Enduring Time: Orlando and ‘the present moment’ 87

Michael F. Davis
Dating Mrs Dalloway: the Use and Abuse of History 101

Adriana Varga
An Innovative Tradition: Music and Language in Virginia Woolf’s Modernist Novel 117

Derek Ryan
‘The lawn was the world’: Uprooting Trees and Becoming-Grass in Virginia Woolf’s To The Lighthouse 129

Adèle Cassigneul
“Un regard posé sur le monde” 139

Angeliki Spiropoulou
The Fissured Contemporaneity of Virginia Woolf 155
Anne-Marie SMITH-DI BIASIO
Minoan Woolf: Out-of-timeness, Haunting Presences, and the Spectre of Virginity 167

Teresa PRUDENTE
The sense of a world continuing without us: Impersonality, Permanence and Fluidity in The Waves 179

Chantal DELOURME
We are. . . marking time: the Impossible Contemporary as a Poie/Litical Threshold in Virginia Woolf’s Diary, Volume 5 191

Monica LATHAM
Mrs Woolf, our Twenty-First-Century Contemporary 207

Anne-Laure RIGEADE
“Penser le contemporain avec Virginia Woolf et Nathalie Sarraute” 223

Christine FROULA
Orlando Lives: Virginia Woolf’s Orlando in Global Adaptation and Performance 233

Notes on Contributors 259