Contents

List of Maps and Figures ix
Contributors to the Volume xi
Acknowledgements xv
A Note on Names xvii
Modern Equivalents of Place-names and Regional Names xix
Abbreviations xxi

Introduction 1
Alan V. Murray

PART I CULTURE AND IDENTITY

1 A New World into Old Words: The Eastern Baltic Region and the Cultural Geography of Medieval Europe 11
Marek Tamm

2 The Baltic Crusades: A Clash of Two Identities 37
Eva Eihmane

3 The Emergence of Livonia: The Transformations of Social and Political Structures in the Territory of Latvia during the Twelfth and Thirteenth Centuries 53
Andris Šnē

4 Sweden’s Conquest of Finland: A Clash of Cultures? 73
Philip Line

PART II CRUSADE AND MISSION

5 Pope Honorius III and Mission and Crusades in the Baltic Region 103
Iben Fonnesberg-Schmidt

6 Violent Victims? Surprising Aspects of the Just War Theory in the Chronicle of Peter von Dusburg 123
Rasa Mažeika
PART III  CONVERTING LANDSCAPES, CONVERTING PEOPLES

7 Sacralization of the Landscape: Converting Trees and Measuring Land in the Danish Crusades against the Wends 141
Kurt Villads Jensen

8 How to Convert a Landscape: Henry of Livonia and the Chronicon Livoniae 151
Carsten Selch Jensen

9 Rural Society and Religious Innovation: Acceptance and Rejection of Catholicism among the Native Inhabitants of Medieval Livonia 169
Tiina Kala

10 Saints’ Cults in Medieval Livonia 191
Anu Mänd

PART IV  CATHOLICISM AND ORTHODOXY

11 Sterile Monsters? Russians and the Orthodox Church in the Chronicle of Henry of Livonia 227
Torben K. Nielsen

12 Archbishop Vasilii Kalika of Novgorod, the Fortress of Orekhov and the Defence of Orthodoxy 253
Michael C. Paul

13 Orthodox Churches in Medieval Livonia 273
Anti Selart

PART V  WARFARE ON THE BALTIC FRONTIER

14 Music and Cultural Conflict in the Christianization of Livonia, 1190–1290 293
Alan V. Murray

15 Crossbows or Catapults? The Identification of Siege Weaponry and Techniques in the Chronicle of Henry of Livonia 307
Stephen Turnbull

16 The Significance of the Local Baltic Peoples in the Defence of Livonia (Late Thirteenth–Sixteenth Centuries) 321
Kaspars Klimīņš