Northern European Overture to War, 1939–1941

From Memel to Barbarossa

Edited by

Michael H. Clemmesen
Marcus S. Faulkner

BRILL
LEIDEN • BOSTON
2013
CONTENTS

List of Illustrations ......................................................................................................................... ix
List of Contributors ............................................................................................................................ xi

Introduction ........................................................................................................................................ 1
   Michael H. Clemmesen and Marcus S. Faulkner

PART I

THE GREAT POWERS AND THEIR APPROACHES TO THE REGION

Containment and Cold War before the Nuclear Age:
   The Phoney War as Allied Strategy According to Liddell Hart .................................................. 9
   Azar Gat

Responding with Kindness or in Kind? On Conceptions of War and the Democracies’ Responses to Military Threats ......................................................... 23
   Jeppe Plenge Trautner

The Only British Advantage: Sea Power and Strategy, September 1939–June 1940 ........................................ 45
   Andrew Lambert

The Soviet Policy towards the Baltic States in 1939–41 .............................. 75
   Boris Vadimovich Sokolov

Soviet Naval Perceptions of the Baltic Sea, 1938–41 ............................................. 91
   Gunnar Åselius

The Long and Winding Road to Weserübung ................................................................. 115
   Michael Epkenhans

Slipping into the War: German Naval Strategy between 1920 and 1940 ........................................ 129
   Jörg Hillmann
PART II

THE FOURTH PARTITION OF POLAND-LITHUANIA AND OTHER EFFECTS OF THE MOLOTOV-RIBBENTROP PACT

The Lithuanian Reaction to the Loss of Klaipėda and the Combined Gift of Soviet “Security Assistance” and Vilnius ........................................ 167
Česlovas Laurinavičius

Polish Perceptions of the Strategic Situation on the Eve of the Second World War ................................................................. 189
Slawomir Dębski

Government and Public Reaction in Estonia to Soviet Pressure and the Events of September–December 1939 ........................................ 209
Magnus Ilmjarv

Responses During the First Months of the Second World War: The Latvian Government, Army, Society and the Finnish Winter War ................................................................. 229
Valters Ščerbinskis

PART III

SCANDINAVIA AND WESERÜBUNG

Norway and the Withering League of Nations ................................................................. 249
Karl Erik Haug

A German Menace to Norway: The Evolution of Threat Perceptions and Strategy between the Wars ................................................................. 271
Tom Kristiansen

The Strategic Considerations and Actions of the Danish Commanding Admiral in the Years before the German Occupation in 1940 ................................................................. 295
Hans Christian Bjerg

The Armoured Commerce Raider: The Concept that Guided German Naval Lobbying for Control of Norway ......................................................... 307
Michael H. Clemmesen
Unternehmen Weserübung April 1940: The German and Allied Strategy and Operational Approaches in Northern Europe
1939–40 .................................................................................................................. 331
Werner Rahn (in cooperation with Milan Vego)

British Operational Responses to German Control of Denmark and Norway, April 1940–June 1941................................................................. 361
Marcus S. Faulkner

The Two Norways, 1940–41.................................................................................. 383
Ole Kristian Grimnes

PART IV

THE FINAL MONTHS OF SOVIET GEOSTRATEGIC PREPARATIONS

Soviet Military Preparations in Estonia during the Year before Barbarossa .................................................................................................................. 405
Toomas Hiio

Swedish Responses to Soviet Moves East of the Baltic Sea: The Baltic States in Swedish Military Planning, 1939–41 ........................................ 433
Lars Ericson Wolke

PART V

THE HISTORIOGRAPHY

Weserübung in German and Norwegian Historiography ............................. 449
Rolf Hobson

Conspiracy, Guilt and Rationality: The Memory and History of the German Military Occupation of Denmark on 9 April 1940......................................................... 465
Palle Roslyng-Jensen

Problems of Baltic Historiography, 1939–41 ...................................................... 491
Alfred Erich Senn

Index of Names .................................................................................................. 511