Preface ix
Acknowledgments xiii

INTRODUCTION Toward a Psychopoetics of Textual Structure 1
INTERCHAPTER Crossing Over: Kafka's Metatextual Parable 45

1 The Psychogenesis of Flaubert's Style:
   Matter, Metaphor, and Metamorphosis 56
   Emma Bovary and the Wound of Memory 57
   The Basic Fault 66
   Of Virgins and Tombstones: Mémoires d'un fou and Novembre 76
   The Consciousness of Death and the Great Wall of Style 83
   The Dismembering Temptation 92

2 Flaubert's Nameless Testament:
   Death and the Library in Bouvard et Pécuchet 102
   Fetishism and Flux 103
   The Comedy of Indigestion 117
   The Eschatology of a Monumental Erection 126

3 Writing on Trial: Toward Kafka's "The Judgment" 139
   Decaying Representations: From the Balcony to the Pavlatche 144
   Intercourse with Ghosts: Kafka between Verbindung and Verkehr 152
   The Eternal Torments of Dying 161
   "The Judgment": Letters to an Absent Friend 167
   Father Effects: Metaphoric Nomination and Psychotic Foreclosure 174
   The Body of the Text: Giving Birth and Opening a Wound 184

4 The Allegorical Structure of The Castle 189
   The Sign-Scripts of Transience 189
   The Last Earthly Frontier: Madness, Metaphor, Writing, and Death 198
   Mirror Effects: Official Texture and Private Compulsion 205
   Unconscious Structures in Language and Desire 214
   Childish Play and Textual Politics 220
   The Subject as Supplement and Fictional Agent 227

CONCLUSION The Issue of Comparison 232
Notes 249
Index 259