
Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	ix
INTRODUCTION	1
Networks and Their Impact on Libraries	1
Research Hypothesis and Methodology	4
I. Cataloging and the Network Environment	9
Cataloging as a Process and an Art	9
The Network Cataloging Environment: Change Agents Enforcing Standards for Consistency	18
II. Professional and Organizational Control in the Workplace: Review of the Literature	37
Research Literature on Professionals	38
Librarians as Professionals	41
Catalogers as Professionals	44
Professionals in Bureaucratic Organizations	46
Organizations as Agents for Social Control of Professionals	48
Deprofessionalization	51
Deprofessionalization of Cataloging	53

III. Deprofessionalization	63
IV. Social Control	79
V. Peer Groups	95
VI. Quality Control Standards	107
VII. Summary and Conclusions	125
APPENDIX A: Quality Control Questionnaire for Catalogers	133
APPENDIX B: Quality Control Questionnaire for Administrators	135
APPENDIX C: Computer Fields and Subfields	137
BIBLIOGRAPHY	139
INDEX	151