

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	xi
1. Racisms Kwame Anthony Appiah	3
2. Biology and the New Racism Martin Barker	18
3. Race and Gender: The Role of Analogy in Science Nancy Leys Stepan	38
4. Toward a Critical Theory of "Race" Lucius Outlaw	58
5. Racism and the West: From Praxis to Logos Christian Delacampagne	83
6. Equality: Beyond Dualism and Oppression John L. Hodge	89
7. The Fact of Blackness Frantz Fanon	108
8. Bichon and the Blacks Roland Barthes	127
9. African Grammar Roland Barthes	130
10. What Celie Knows That You Should Know Barbara Christian	135
11. "I'm Down on Whores": Race and Gender in Victorian London Sander L. Gilman	146

12.	"Ours to Jew or Die": Céline and the Categories of Anti-Semitism	Julia Kristeva	171
13.	Interrogating Identity: The Postcolonial Prerogative	Homi K. Bhabha	183
14.	Zionism from the Standpoint of Its Victims	Edward W. Said	210
15.	Racism and the Innocence of Law	Peter Fitzpatrick	247
16.	One Nation under a Groove: The Cultural Politics of "Race" and Racism in Britain	Paul Gilroy	263
17.	Paradoxes of Universality	Etienne Balibar	283
18.	The Social Formation of Racist Discourse	David Theo Goldberg	295
19.	Critical Remarks	Henry Louis Gates, Jr.	319
	Notes on Contributors		333
	Selected Bibliography		337
	Index		343