

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
Notes on contributors	ix
Editors' note	x
Introduction Peter Moss and Edward C. Melhuish	1
1 Day care for young children in France Frédérique Leprince	10
2 French research on day care Geneviève Balleyguier	27
3 Day care for young children in the German Democratic Republic Irina Weigl and Christine Weber	46
4 Research in nurseries in the German Democratic Republic Irina Weigl and Christine Weber	56
5 Day care for young children in Sweden Anders Broberg and C. Philip Hwang	75
6 Swedish childcare research C. Philip Hwang, Anders Broberg and Michael E. Lamb	102
7 Day care for young children in the United Kingdom Peter Moss	121

Contents

8 Research on day care for young children in the United Kingdom Edward C. Melhuish	142
9 Day care for young children in the United States Deborah Phillips	161
10 Caregiving environments and their consequences for children: the experience in the United States Carollee Howes	185
11 Current and future issues in policy and research Edward C. Melhuish and Peter Moss	199
Name index	216
Subject index	221

Illustrations

Figures

6.1	The proposed model depicting the 'determinants' and 'outcomes' included in the analyses	110
6.2	Study 1 determinants of Phase III personality ratings	111
6.3	Study 1 determinants of Phase III social skills	113
6.4	Best predictors of Phase III Griffiths scores	114

Tables

2.1	Childrearing of 9-month-olds and type of care	34
2.2	Childrearing of 2-year-olds and type of care	36
2.3	Childrearing at home for 3.5 to 4-year-olds related to previous type of care	38
2.4	Characteristics of stimulating and non-stimulating nurseries	42
3.1	The development of nursery provision, GDR, 1960–87	52
5.1	Proportion of children aged 0–3 whose mothers work outside the home, Sweden, 1986	76
5.2	Demand for municipal day care for children under 3, Sweden, 1987	77
5.3	Municipalities with more than 75 per cent of children with working parents in municipal day care by type of area and political majority	79
5.4	The annual cost of a place in municipal day care and its division between state, municipality and parents, Sweden, 1987	80
5.5	Fees paid for places in municipal nurseries in different municipalities by parents with different incomes, Sweden, 1987	81
5.6	Proportion of children in different forms of day care, Sweden, 1987	89

Illustrations

5.7	Proportion of mothers with pre-school children who are employed and their hours of work, Sweden, 1987	90
5.8	Proportion of parents with children aged 2–3 who are employed and their hours of work, Gothenburg, 1986	90
5.9	Current and 'ideal' childcare arrangements for children aged 9–24 months according to birthplace of parents, Gothenburg, 1984	91
5.10	Proportion of pre-school children (0–6 years old) in municipal day care, Sweden, 1960–85	92
7.1	Proportion of children under 3 using various day care services, UK, 1986	129
7.2	Childcare arrangements while mothers at work for children under 5, UK, 1979 (Study 1), 1980 (Study 2)	130
8.1	Maternal occupational status before child's birth	147
8.2	Means of cognitive and language measures at 18 months of age	149
8.3	Adult/child ratios for childcare settings	157
9.1	Day care arrangements for infants and toddlers of employed mothers, US, 1984–5	168
9.2	Day care arrangements for children under age 3 of employed mothers, US, 1965–85	169
9.3	Actual and projected proportion of children under 6 with a mother in the labour force, US, 1970–95	178
9.4	Labour force participation rates of mothers of infants and toddlers, by marital status, US, 1977–87	179