

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	1
The Concept of 'Sex Upbringing'	2
The 'Demographic Crisis'	4
The Link between 'Sex Upbringing' and the Demographic Crisis	6
The Effects of Glasnost ' and Perestroika on Women	9
The Outline of the Book	13
A Note on Translation and Terminology	14
1 Western Theories of Male and Female Personality Differences	16
Psychoanalytic Theory	16
Social Learning Theory	21
Cognitive Developmental Theory	24
Feminism and Sex Differences in Personality	27
2 Soviet Psychology and Personality Development	32
Historical Outline	33
Ivan Pavlov	40
The Troika: Vygotskii, Luria and Leont'ev	47
The Development of Moral Attitudes and Behaviour	56
Biology and Society in the Development of Personality	60
A Proposed Soviet Theory of Male and Female Personality, According to the Tenets of Soviet Psychology	63

3	Soviet Psychologists on Sex Differences	67
	B. G. Anan'ev: Sex Differences in Ontogenesis	67
	A. A. Bodalev: Sex Differences in Interpersonal Understanding	69
	V. S. Mukhina: Sex Differences in Choice of Toys	70
	T. G. Khashchenko: Sex Differences in Mental Problem Solving	71
	Sex Differences and Identification with Parents: the Work of A. I. Zakharov	74
	Sex Differences and Identification with Parents: the Work of A. Ya. Varga	77
	V. A. Kuts and V. P. Bagrunov: Sex Differences and Success in Marriage	78
	L. S. Sapozhnikova: Sex Differences in the Development of Moral Behaviour	80
	A. Kelly and T. Snegireva: a Comparison of British and Soviet Approaches to Sex Differences in School Subject Preference	81
	Concluding Remarks	84
4	The Work of I. S. Kon	86
	Personality, Social Roles, and the Social Construction of Sex Differences	87
	The Role of Biology in the Development of Sex Differences	90
	The Erosion of Traditional Sex Differences in Personality	93
	The Interaction of Social and Biological Influences	96
	More Recent Work	97

5	Sex-change in the USSR: A. I. Belkin's Theory of Gender Development, and His Treatment of Hermaphrodites	100
	Hermaphroditism and Transsexualism: the Western Approach	100
	Belkin's Approach: Hormones and Sex Differences	101
	The Process of Gender Reassignment	104
	Belkin's Theory of Gender Development	111
	Belkin and Western Writings on Gender	113
	Belkin and the Pro-family Ethos	115
	Belkin and Soviet Psychology	117
6	Sociological and Demographic Approaches to Sex Differences	119
	Male and Female Personality in Socialist Society	120
	Male and Female Roles in the Family	127
7	The Pedagogical Approach to Sex Differences	133
	The Early Pedagogical Writings on Sex Differences	133
	Conflicting Opinions within the Early Writings	140
	The Recent Writings	145
	A Summary of the Pedagogical Writings	154
	Pedagogy and Psychology	157
	Pedagogy and the Medical Profession	159
	Warnings Against the Encouragement of Excessive Sex-differentiation in Personality	162
	Summary of the Pedagogical and Medical Approach	163

8 The Popular Press	165
The Causes of the Masculinization of Women and the Feminization of Men	166
The Tensions between Women's Work and Family Roles	170
Propagandizing the Multi-child Family	172
Promoting the Full-time Housewife	173
Writings in the Popular Press which Oppose the Resurrection of Traditional Sex Roles	174
Concluding Remarks	181
9 The Practical Application of Soviet Ideas on Sex Roles	183
The School Course: 'the Ethics and Psychology of Family Life'	184
The Course Outline	185
Family Consultation Centres	191
'Get-acquainted' Services	198
Discouraging Divorce through the Legal System	200
10 Sex Role Socialization in the USSR: Summary of the Past, and Prospects for the Future	203
Zakharova, Posadskaya and Rimachevskaya: Four Approaches to Sex Roles	207
The Development of Soviet Views on Sex Roles, and Prospects for the Future	209
Notes and References	213
Bibliography	237
Index	255