CONTENTS

Preface xv

Part I  MASS COMMUNICATION AND SOCIETY

1  PUBLIC COMMUNICATION AND PUBLIC INTEREST: CONTESTED TERRITORY 1

Mass communication in the information society 1
Ideas of the ‘public’ and of public communication 2
Mass media and the public interest 3
The rise of a public sphere: from communication ‘warfare’ to ‘welfare’ 5
Unitary beginnings 5
Growth of public communication 5
The first age of printing 5
The early industrial age 6
The age of mass media 7
Conflicts over ‘communication welfare’ 8
Shifting frontier between freedom and control 9

2  MEDIA PERFORMANCE: TRADITIONS OF ENQUIRY 10

Looking for quality criteria 10
Other approaches to evaluating the media 11
Organizational efficiency 12
Media effect model 12
Marxist–critical approach 13
Media cultural studies approach 13
Social cost–benefit analysis 14
Media ethics approach 14
A distinctive approach to media assessment 15
Origins 15
Defining characteristics 16
Aims and plan of the book 17

3  THE ‘PUBLIC INTEREST’ IN COMMUNICATION 20

Conceptual clarification 20
Lessons of economic regulation 21
Typologies of the public interest idea
  Preponderance theory 22
  Common interest theory 23
  Unity theory 23

The special case of mass communication 23
A compromise proposal 25
A framework for identifying public interest claims 26
Media policy debates: past and present 30
Media policy as a source of norms for performance 30
A summary of mid-twentieth century policy issues 32
Varieties of national expression of media norms 33

Part II  MEDIA PERFORMANCE NORMS

4 PERFORMANCE NORMS IN MEDIA POLICY DISCOURSE:
THE NEWSPAPER PRESS 35

Policies for freedom and democracy 35
The USA: basic principles of policy 36
The newspaper press in the United States 37
Canada: press policy for democracy and cultural identity 39
Press policy in Britain 41
The continental European contribution 43
  Sweden: support for the political role of the press 43
  Other national experience: France, Germany and The Netherlands 44
Norms for international news 46
Changing status of the press 47

5 PERFORMANCE NORMS IN MEDIA POLICY DISCOURSE:
BROADCASTING 49

Media on a leash 49
The USA: regulating the airwaves 49
Canadian broadcasting: multiculturalism and autonomy 53
British broadcasting policy: from public service to consumerism? 55
Varied national experience in Europe 59
  Germany: democracy, regionalism and cultural obligations 59
  Sweden: support for culture and politics 61
  The Netherlands and elsewhere: support for ‘pluriformity’ 61
Additional goals in European media policy: identity and access 62
New rules for European television 63
A wider policy debate 63

6 A FRAMEWORK OF PRINCIPLE FOR MEDIA ASSESSMENT 65

Four (or more) theories of the press 65
Basic communication values: a proposal 66
Contents

Freedom as a public communication value 68
Equality as a public communication value 71
Values of order and culture 73
An overall framework of communication norms 77
Other perspectives on media performance 78

Part III  RESEARCH MODELS AND METHODS

7 MEDIA ORGANIZATIONAL PERFORMANCE: MODELS AND RESEARCH OPTIONS 81

Obstacles to performance as viewed from within 81
Normative responses to organizational pressures 83
  Relations with sources and selection decisions 83
Response to economic pressure and support 84
Relations with the wider society: public interest or self-interest? 85
Relations with the audience 86
Autonomy as a recurrent theme 86
A media organization model 87
  Market structure 87
  Media organizational conduct 89
  Media organizational performance 90
  Informational feedback for media and society 90
Variants of media organizational form 91
  The newspaper press model 91
  The broadcast model 92
  The book model 93
  The common carrier model 94
The basic logic of social research into media performance 95
Strategic research options: choice of level and of explanatory variables 96
Inter-media comparisons 98
Multiple methods needed 98

Part IV  MEDIA FREEDOM

8 CONCEPTS AND MODELS OF MEDIA FREEDOM 99

Degrees of freedom 99
  Questions of structure 99
  Questions of organizational conduct 100
Components of the press freedom idea 101
Four editorial models of media freedom 102
  The press market model of editorial freedom 103
  The broadcasting editorial model 104
  The book market model 105
  Common carriage 106
Contents

Varying conditions of constraint: finance and freedom 106
Variable claims to freedom: information versus art; 108
    fiction versus reality
Extending the normative framework 110

9 MEDIA FREEDOM: FROM STRUCTURE TO PERFORMANCE 112

Conditions of freedom of structure 112
Seeking signs of independent performance 113
Does monopoly affect content? 115
Proprietary versus editorial freedom 117
    Evidence from editors 118
    The case of electoral politics 118
    Other evidence of owner influence 119
The media as watch-dog and critic of government 120
    Applied research into the critical role of the media 121
    The active editorial role 122
    Conflict reporting as an indicator of freedom 123
    Investigative reporting 124
Structure and performance only weakly linked 124

10 MEDIA FREEDOM: THE ORGANIZATIONAL ENVIRONMENT 126

Conduct and performance: perceptions of autonomy 126
Relations with routine news sources 127
Public relations as source 128
Media self-origination of content 129
Powerful sources 130
War and patriotism 131
Other options for assessment 133
Advertiser pressure 133
    Effects of advertising on structure and content 133
    Advertising pressure and editorial autonomy 135
    Journalists and the audience as sources of evidence 136
Pressures from advocates and special interest groups 136
The audience view of media freedom 138
Modest achievements, limited knowledge 139

Part V DIVERSITY

11 VARIETIES AND PROCESSES OF DIVERSITY 141

The diversity principle 141
Alternative interpretations of media diversity and its benefits 142
Media diversity: three standards of performance 144
    Diversity as reflection 144
    Diversity as access 144
    Diversity as more channels and choice for the audience 145
Conceptual overlaps 145
Sub-concepts of media diversity
- External versus internal diversity
  - External diversity
  - Internal diversity
- Equal versus proportional reflection and access
  - Equality of access
  - Proportionality
- Quantitative versus qualitative diversity of treatment
  - Diversity as consumer choice: the horizontal/vertical distinction

The inter-relation of concepts

Alternative dimensions of media diversity
- The political dimension
- The geographical dimension
- The social/cultural dimension of diversity

Delivering media diversity: two basic models
- The market model
- The non-market (public policy) model

Options in diversity research
- Source diversity
- Channel diversity
- Diversity of content 'as sent'
- Diversity of content 'as received'
- Receiver/audience diversity
- The main questions for diversity assessment research

12 TAKING THE MEASURE OF DIVERSITY: MEDIA REFLECTION

- Reflective diversity and media structure
  - Political reflection in media structure
  - Local and regional media diversity
  - Media structure and class structure
- Reflective diversity and media content
  - Reflecting political divisions
  - Social life reflected in media content
  - Race and ethnicity reflected in media content
  - Women in the media
  - The representation of work and social status
  - A distorted reflection of the world?
- Reflective diversity and the media audience
- Reflections on reflection
- On not being too literal

13 MEDIA ACCESS AND AUDIENCE CHOICE

- Diversity as access: questions of structure
- Diversity of access in media content
Contents

Political access and inter-channel difference 172
Duplication of news content 173
Balance and direction of access 174
Hegemonic tendencies in media content 174
Access and the audience 175
Diversity as variety and choice for the audience 175
Assessing reader choice 176
Viewer and listener choice 176
Vertical versus horizontal diversity 178
Methodological limitations 179
Audience diversity 180
No end in sight 181

Part VI OBJECTIVITY

14 CONCEPTS OF OBJECTIVITY

The trouble with the notion 183
The meaning of news objectivity for news people 184
Sources of the objectivity norm 186
Objections to objectivity 187
Its impossibility 187
Its undesirability 188
Non-objective news 189
Human interest and news 189
Partisanship and advocacy 190
Investigative news 191
The objectivity–bias polarity 191
A typology of news bias 193
Partisanship 193
The case of propaganda 193
Unwitting bias 194
Ideology 194
Objectivity less obscure 195

15 A FRAMEWORK FOR OBJECTIVITY RESEARCH

Westerståhl’s model 196
Cognitive (information quality) aspects 197
Factuality and cognate terms 197
The standard of relevance 197
Alternative sources of relevance criteria 198
Absolute (normative) standards of relevance 199
Real world indicators 199
The audience as guide 199
Journalistic criteria of relevance 199
Relevance versus sensationalism 200
Evaluative (impartiality) aspects
Balance
Neutrality
Objectivity is always relative

16 MEASURING OBJECTIVITY: NEWS AS INFORMATION

The factual component of objective performance
Factuality
Information value
Readability
Checkability
Accuracy
Verification of facts against a 'reality' record
Source or subject perception of accuracy
Eye-witness comparisons
Audience assessment of accuracy
Credibility
'Internal' accuracy
Completeness
Reference to event records
Fullness/range of coverage
Quantitative adequacy
Information delivery and news comprehension
'Relevance' aspects of objective performance
Indicators of relevance in news
Normative approaches to assessing relevance
Requirements for democracy
Sensationalism and human interest as problems
Professional judgement as source of relevance criteria
News selection
News values
'Significance' versus 'interest' as factors in judgement
The audience as a guide to relevance assessment
'Real world' indicators and institutional agendas
Divergent audience realities
Institutional agendas
Mass communication, crisis and risk
Diversity of relevance

17 MEASURING OBJECTIVITY: THE EVALUATIVE DIMENSION OF NEWS

News as values
The impartiality component of objective news performance
Balance
Balance in election campaigns
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Contents</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Evaluative direction in news accounts</td>
<td>226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>External tests of balance in coverage</td>
<td>228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Source bias</td>
<td>228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Semantic and discourse bias</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Evaluative structures (frames) of meaning</td>
<td>231</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>‘Preferred reading’ in news</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Neutral presentation</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sensationalism</td>
<td>233</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Formats and visuals in TV news</td>
<td>233</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stereotypes, juxtaposition and linkages</td>
<td>234</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The audience view of balance and neutrality</td>
<td>235</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ifs and buts</td>
<td>236</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Part VII  MASS MEDIA, ORDER AND SOCIAL CONTROL

18 MEDIA AND THE MAINTENANCE OF PUBLIC ORDER

| Concepts of order and their assessment                                | 237 |
| A framework for performance research                                 | 237 |
| Divergent expectations concerning social control                     | 239 |
| Limited war situations and the mass media                           | 240 |
| Civil disturbance                                                     | 244 |
| The case of terrorism                                                 | 247 |
| Communication values give way to power                               | 249 |

19 POLICING THE SYMBOLIC ENVIRONMENT

| An intermediate zone of control                                      | 251 |
| Media, crime and violence                                            | 251 |
| Mass media as perceived cause of crime                               | 252 |
| Images of crime                                                       | 252 |
| Measuring media violence                                              | 253 |
| Norms for portraying violence                                        | 255 |
| Socialization and consensus                                           | 255 |
| The cultivation process                                               | 256 |
| Symbolic reward and punishment                                       | 256 |
| Conformity and deviance                                               | 257 |
| Questions of taste and morality                                      | 258 |
| Issues of proscribed (‘non-cultural’) content                        | 259 |
| Representation of sex                                              | 259 |
| Violence                                                            | 260 |
| Commercialism in media content                                     | 260 |
| Blasphemy and bad language                                          | 261 |
| Other causes of cultural offence                                    | 261 |
| Absence of consensus                                                  | 262 |

20 SOLIDARITY AND SOCIAL IDENTITY

| Media and solidarity                                                  | 263 |
| Mass media and social identity                                        | 263 |
Counter-cultures and the media
Ethnic minorities and the media
Women and mass media
Local media and local identity
Solidarity: the empathy factor
The international dimension of media empathy
Media follow rather than lead

Part VIII  MEDIA AND CULTURE

21 QUESTIONS OF CULTURE AND MASS COMMUNICATION

Protecting cultural quality
Culture and society: fragmentation and relativism
Principles of cultural policy for the media
Hierarchy
Equality
Cultural identity
Taste and morality
Agents and claimants
Cultural institutions
Cultural industries
Political interests
Pressure groups
From cultural politics to performance criteria
Culture as education and science content in mass media
Expectations of the educational role of broadcast media
Quantative assessment
Qualitative assessment
Reaching the audience
Assessing artistic cultural provision
‘High’ versus ‘low’ culture
Ways around the impasse
Dimensions and indicators of cultural quality
Space for ‘high’ culture
The standard of originality
Criteria of social morality or political value
Production values and professional quality
Folk art and crafts
Commercial criteria of success
Multiple paths to assessment

22 CULTURAL IDENTITY AND AUTONOMY: WHOSE MEDIA CULTURE?

Political tests of media cultural performance
Uncertainty about identity
Claims made on the media 291
Transnationalization of media 292
   Cultural imbalance and invasion 292
   Varieties of transnationalization 293
   Cultural profit and loss 294
   Autonomy versus diversity 295
   The message as effect? 295
Research and its outcomes 296
   Global images 296
Cultural identity in media content 297
   National identity 297
   Locality and identification 298
   Minority identity 298
Measurement possibilities 299

Part IX  IN CONCLUSION

23  CHANGING MEDIA, CHANGING MORES:
IMPLICATIONS FOR ASSESSMENT 301

   Striking a balance 301
   Looking ahead to the information age 302
   Changes in the communications media 303
   The public interest in an information age 306
      A revised agenda of public interest concerns 307
         Issues of freedom and democracy 307
         Equality issues 309
         Issues of order and culture 310
   Adapting media performance assessment 311
      Focusing on audience reception and response 313
      Case studies 313
      Cross-national, cross-system comparisons 313
   Performance assessment options 314
      The professional/organizational model of assessment 314
      The public debate model 315
      The concession/monitoring model 315
   Information for guidance and accountability 315

References 317

Index 346