Table of Contents

List of Illustrations

Foreword

Preface

Acknowledgments

Chapter One

Origins: Journalism and the Comic Strips

Chapter Two

Neorealistic Apprenticeship: Fellini as Scriptwriter

Chapter Three

Beyond Neorealism: Character and Narrative Form in Early Fellini From Luci del Varietà to La Dolce Vita

Chapter Four

Dreams and Metacinema: Le Tentazioni del Dottor Antonio, 8 1/2, Block-Notes di un Regista, I Clowns, Roma, E la Nave Va, Ginger e Fred, and Intervista

Chapter Five

Literature and Cinema: Toby Dammit and Fellini Satyricon

Appendixes to Chapter Five

Chapter Six

Fellini and Politics: Amarcord and Prova d'Orchestra
12. Un'agenzia matrimoniale: after raising a young girl's hopes of a good marriage, the journalist abandons her on the sidewalk [Fellini's Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich]

13. La strada: after learning of her vocation during the parable of the pebble, Gelsomina sees Zampanò in a new light [Fellini's Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich]

14. Il bidone: just before death at the end of the film, Augusto struggles to join the procession on the road above him [Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich]

15. Le notti di Cabiria: under the hypnotist's spell, Cabiria reveals her secret ambitions to a jeering audience [Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich]

16. La dolce vita: Fellini's sketch of Anita drawn for Pablo Picasso, a major influence on the aesthetic structure of the film [Fellini's Zeichnungen. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich]

17. La dolce vita: the insectlike paparazzo in a sketch by Fellini [Fellini’s Zeichnungen. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich]

18. La dolce vita: Via Veneto as Fellini reproduced it inside Cinecittà's studios in Rome [Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich]

19. Fellini’s dream notebooks: a dream of 12 November 1961 reveals an anxious Fellini taking an examination in a De Chirico-like square in Florence [Courtesy of Federico Fellini]

20. Fellini’s dream notebooks: Fellini as he dreams of himself (thin and with a bushy head of hair) and as he is (balding and gaining weight) [Courtesy of Federico Fellini and the Lilly Library of Rare Books]

21. Fellini’s dream notebooks: Fellini and Pope Paul VI in a hot-air balloon before “the great fabricator and dissolver of clouds” [Courtesy of Federico Fellini]

22. Le tentazioni del dottor Antonio: Dr. Antonio’s secret passions are aroused by the billboard poster of Anita outside his
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

window (Fellini's Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich)

23. 8 1/2: Guido attempts to subdue La Saraghina in the harem fantasy sequence (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich)

24. Clowns: a young boy recalling the comic strip “Little Nemo” sees the circus for the first time (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich)

25. Roma: Fellini’s directions to Danilo Donati for the creation of various unusually shaped cardinal’s uniforms from the original manuscript of the soggetto (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and the Lilly Library of Rare Books)

26. Roma: Donati’s realization of Fellini’s directions, resulting in invisible cardinals composed only of light (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich)

27. Roma: the geometric shape Fellini wanted to create during the appearance of the pope, from a sketch on the original manuscript of the soggetto (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and the Lilly Library of Rare Books)

28. Intervista: Fellini directs the preparations for the scale model of Cinecittà that will appear in his dream vision opening the film (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and Studio Longardi)

29. E la nave va: Fellini’s technicians prepare the scale model of the Austrian battleship that will sail upon a plastic ocean (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and Studio Longardi)

30. Ginger e Fred: Ginger and Fred are presented to the television audience of Ed ecco a voi! by the master of ceremonies (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and Studio Longardi)

31. Toby Dammit: Fellini’s sketch of Toby’s decapitation from the original manuscript of the script (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and the Lilly Library of Rare Books)

32. Fellini Satyricon: Fellini’s sketch of the labyrinth and its Minotaur, a visual metaphor for the unconscious (Fellini’s Zeichnungen. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich)
33. Fellini Satyricon: Enotea, the mysterious sorceress whose amorous affections cure Encolpio of his impotence (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 249

34. Amarcord: the ideal Fascist couple is married in a fantasy sequence before a huge image of Mussolini (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 273

35. Amarcord: Titta tries to seduce Gradisca in the cinema (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 276

36. Amarcord: the townspeople cheer the passage of the Rex (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 277

37. Amarcord: Fellini’s sketch of the insane Uncle Teo screaming “I want a woman!” (Fellini’s Zeichnungen. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 278

38. Prova d’orchestra: Fellini’s sketch of the German conductor from the original manuscript of the film’s soggetto (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and the Lilly Library of Rare Books) 289

39. Fellini’s dream notebooks: a nude woman on a cloud fertilizes the ground below at Fellini’s command (Courtesy of Federico Fellini) 295

40. Giulietta degli spiriti: in her fantasy, the adult Giulietta releases the young Giulietta from captivity in the school play (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 306

41. Casanova: the head of Venus that sinks beneath the Venetian lagoon (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 311

42. Casanova: Casanova dances with the only woman he ever really loved, a mechanical doll (Fellini’s Filme. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 314

43. Casanova: the sketch of an early idea, a nude woman engulfing a line of men, that was later changed to the whale in the final film (Fellini’s Zeichnungen. All rights reserved. Copyright © 1976 by Diogenes Verlag AG Zürich) 316
44. La città delle donne: young boys masturbating under the sheets, an image of cinematic spectatorship that represents for Fellini the essence of the cinema’s male gaze (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and Studio Longardi) 323

45. La voce della luna: Ivo listens enraptured to the strange, suggestive voices emanating from the open wells under the moonlight (Courtesy of Federico Fellini and Studio Longardi) 332