Contents

Preface ix
Warren Bennis

Part I An Overview

1 The State of American Management 3
Walter B. Wriston
A State of the Union address from one of America’s most respected managers.

Part II The Importance of Values

1 Speed, Simplicity, Self-Confidence: An Interview with Jack Welch 15
Noel Tichy and Ram Charan
GE’s chairman and CEO articulates his program of building a revitalized “human engine” to animate his firm’s formidable “business engine.”

2 Values Make the Company: An Interview with Robert Haas 33
Robert Howard
Levi Strauss’s chairman and CEO says that his company’s most important asset is its people’s “aspirations.”

3 Red Auerbach on Management 55
Alan M. Webber
The coach, manager, and now president of one of America’s most successful sports franchises describes his management philosophy.
Contents

Part III Global Leadership

1 The Logic of Global Business: An Interview with ABB’s Percy Barnevik 67
William Taylor
The president and CEO of ABB Asea Brown Boveri Ltd is aggressively making a merger a potent new factor in the European market.

2 A European Platform for Global Competition: An Interview with VW’s Carl Hahn 91
Bernard Avishai
How and why the auto company has made federation the operative word in the 1990s. Will flexibility and expansion restore Volkswagen’s glory?

3 A Japanese Giant Rethinks Globalization: An Interview with Yoshihisa Tabuchi 109
Michael Schrage
In driving the evolution of Nomura Securities from a brokerage house to a diversified financial institution, its former president and CEO faced many of the questions his country does.

4 From National Champion to Global Competitor: An Interview with Thomson’s Alain Gomez 119
Janice McCormick and Nan Stone
Named by the French government in 1982 to head the company, Gomez is betting that his formidable skills and new management team will pummel the competition in consumer electronics and semiconductors.

5 Citicorp Faces the World: An Interview with John Reed 137
Noel Tichy and Ram Charan
In the early 1970s Reed overhauled the bank’s back office; now he sets out strategies for revolutionizing global banking.
Part IV Perspectives on Change

1 Consensus, Continuity, and Common Sense: An Interview with Compaq's Rod Canion 159
   Alan M. Webber
   One of the three founders of one of the fastest-growing companies in the United States explains the corporation's unique management process.

2 The Value-Adding CFO: An Interview with Disney's Gary Wilson 175
   Geraldine E. Willigan
   More than a financial wizard, Wilson is a business strategist and here explains how that adds value to America's well-known conglomerate.

3 The Business of Innovation: An Interview with Paul Cook 191
   William Taylor
   The founder and chairman of Raychem tells the reader
   how his firm masters a set of core technologies to create thousands of proprietary products sold worldwide.

4 Championing Change: An Interview with Bell Atlantic's CEO Raymond Smith 209
   Rosabeth Moss Kanter
   The leader of a baby Bell, Smith speaks about the CEO's role in transforming a monopolistic bureaucratic corporation into one that is both efficient and entrepreneurial.

Part V The Politics of Leadership

1 Yasuhiro Nakasone: The Statesman as CEO 233
   Alan M. Webber
   The former prime minister of Japan is candid about such matters as internationalization of his country, relations with the United States, and global competition.
2 Jimmy Carter: The Statesman as CEO 251
Alan M. Webber
Since he left the presidency, Jimmy Carter has emerged as a very skilled negotiator and ambassador-at-large. This interview reveals why.

3 Gerald R. Ford: The Statesman as CEO 261
Alan M. Webber
Ex-president Ford speaks tellingly on a wide range of topics, from the special qualities needed for leadership to the role of businesspeople in national affairs.

Index 269