CONTENTS

Preface vii

PART I
RELEVANCE LOST IN TOP-DOWN CONTROL 1
1. Information, Action, and Business Performance 3
2. Remote-Control Management in the Dark Age of Relevance Lost 16
3. Consequences of Remote-Control Management 33

PART II
RELEVANCE REGAINED BY BOTTOM-UP EMPOWERMENT 55
4. Imperatives of Competition—Past and Present 57
5. Becoming Responsive by Building Long-term Customer Relationships 73
6. Becoming Flexible by Empowering Workers to Remove Constraints 89
7. Management Information for Competitive Excellence 104
8. Activity-Based Cost Management: Relevance Lost Déjà Vu 131
9. Putting an Improvement Process in Place 155

PART III
INFORMATION, EMPOWERMENT, AND SOCIETY 173
10. New Frontiers for Business Education 175
11. The Information Revolution Revisited 197
Appendix: Where to Turn for Help 205
Notes 207
Acknowledgments 217
Index 221